Rocky for $200 Annual Grants to Students Chimp Is Shot Successfully on Atlantic Hop

No Word Yet as to Survival Misses Target By 130 Miles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The United States successfully rocketed a chimpanzee-manned space capsule more than 100 miles into space today and dropped it in the Atlantic Ocean 420 miles down range. There was no immediate report on whether the chimp survived.

The capsule overshoot its intended target by 130 miles, indicating that the Redstone booster rocket had not performed as planned.

Race for Recovery

Ships, planes and helicopters raced to attempt recovery of the one-ton space chamber and its passenger, a 37½-pound male primate designated simply No. 65.

The majority of the recovery forces were stationed in the intended impact area 290 miles down range. But other craft were placed on both near and far sides of the mark in case the capsule missed it.

There was no immediate word on how near the bell-shaped capsule fell to any of the recovery ships.

Struggle For Power Is Coming Kennedy Program Leans on Outcome

WASHINGTON (AP) — Still hardly believing its eyes, the House of Representatives set itself today to watch an open power struggle between Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., and Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va.

The clash of wills between "Mr. Sam," 79, and "The Judge," two days short of 78, has been in the making for weeks. The success of President Kennedy's legislative program may be deeply involved with Rayburn's success in efforts to enlarge the Rules Committee that Smith heads. A victory for Rayburn would break the hold of a Republican-Southern Democratic coalition on the committee.

One to Be Bruised

Knowing all this, the seniority-loving House still wasn't prepared psychologically for a showdown certain to leave one or the other of its self-spoken elders badly bruised. Both the principals have a marked preference for matters arranged quietly in leisurely private talks.

True to form, Rayburn and Smith negotiated through intermediaries right up to the eleventh hour.

Rayburn has been in the House 47 years, Smith 30. Even yielding 17 years, Smith ranks among the dozen seniors of the House.

Speaker Long Time

Rayburn has the enormous prestige of the speakership. Before his present term is over he will have served as speaker twice as long as any other man. His nearest rival was Henry Clay.

Smith is the acknowledged leader of the Southern conservative Democrats in the House and has done as much as any man to give that outnumbered group an influence in national affairs.

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Allen Van Leuven, 18, of Napanoch, N.Y., has died of a gunshot wound in the head which naval authorities said was self-inflicted accidentally.

Van Leuven, of the Marine Barracks at the Charleston Naval Base, died Monday. He had been posted as a guard at the base's south gate. Naval officials said he was dead on arrival at the U.S. Naval Hospital here.

Says Youth Court Act Would Bring Harm by Secrecy

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — The Youth Court Act would be scrapped and a new youth court would be established, free of the secrecy provisions in the controversial act, under recommendations of the State Judicial Conference.

"Secrecy brings evil greater than that which it strives to eliminate," Chief Judge Charles F. Desmond of the State Court of Appeals said Monday in announcing the conference had recommended repeal of the act passed by the 1956 Legislature. Desmond spoke at a meeting of the State Society of Newspaper Editors.

Is Not in Effect

The 1956 act has not gone into effect. Succeeding Legislatures have postponed the effective date and the 1960 Legislature asked the judicial conference to recommend disposition of the act.

The judicial conference is the administrative body of the state's court system.

An 18-year-old student, who was accused with two boys of taking $157.90 from a club car cash box on a New York Central train en route from New York City to Poughkeepsie on Sunday, was released on bail of $50 Monday.

City Judge Charles O'Donnell adjourned until Monday, Feb. 6 the case of Godfrey Josef Jacobson, of 10 East Church Street, Fairport, who was arrested on a charge of petty larceny. The youth is a student at Oakwood School on South Road, Town of Poughkeepsie.

Stillman Critical of Changes Newburgh Man Is Likely to Join BA

Sam Schoonmaker, proprietor of Schoonmaker's Department Store, Newburgh, was today expected to be named to the New York State Bridge Authority to succeed John S. Stillman, of Cornwall-on-Hudson, whose term is due to expire Wednesday.

A meeting of the authority was slated for 2 p. m. today to act on the bid for construction of 12 piers of the Newburgh-Beacon bridge, and it was indicated that Schoonmaker would be invited to attend.

Says Money Lost

Stillman, in a letter, which he said was one of resignation, complained to Gov. Rockefeller that money and opportunities were lost through changes in Newburgh-Beacon plans. The former authority member was recently named to a federal government post.

Schoonmaker, one source revealed today, was the only one recommended by Orange County Republican leaders to succeed Stillman.

Stillman, noting that "over $750,000" was spent for designing a four-lane bridge at Newburgh, said he regretted that Gov. Rockefeller "saw fit last March to change the financing plan . . . by giving up $24 million of federal aid, now lost forever" to the state's highway system.

Opposes Reducing Width

He opposed reducing the span's width from 57 to 30 feet, and changing it "from a modern divided highway design to an archaic and dangerous two-lane frictional traffic structure. The change in financing plans has also indefinitely postponed the freeing of the five bridges of the authority."

Stillman said he felt the Gov- (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Pine Hill Man Is Killed by Tree In Woods Mishap

Stanley Osterhoudt, 68, was fatally injured Monday by a falling tree while logging near his home in Pine Hill.

Phoenicia state police said Osterhoudt was logging on top of the mountain near his home and his son, Donald discovered the body when he went out to look for his father who failed to return home for supper.

Unable to move the body alone, he later returned to the site with a group of volunteer firemen and Dr. John McKeon of Phoenicia, who pronounced the elder Osterhoudt dead.

Killed by Tree

Trooper Charles Bundschuh said Osterhoudt was apparently killed by a falling tree. It was reported that a previously cut tree lodged in another and while attempting to cut it down, Osterhoudt was crushed.

The body was discovered at approximately 6:45 p. m.

Osterhoudt, who had been a logger most of his life was reportedly injured in two other major mishaps. At one time his (Continued on Page 6, Col. 1)

Also Urges Doubling Of Awards $15 Million Seen First Year Cost

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller urged the Legislature today to launch a higher-education program of $200 annual state grants to students at private colleges, double the number of Regents' scholarships and approve new facilities for the State University.

$50 Million by '65

The first-year cost would be about $15 million. The annual cost would grow with an expanding college population. The cost would reach $50 million by 1965.

There was no estimate of the ultimate cost of the program nor its long-range impact on taxes.

The governor's recommendations were contained in a 6,500-word message to the Legislature.

He made no reference to criticism that his plan of grants to private-college students was designed, insofar as church-sponsored colleges were concerned, to circumvent a constitutional ban on direct or indirect state help to sectarian schools.

Clergy Students Ineligible

However, Rockefeller said students preparing for the clergy or studying theology would be ineligible for grants.

Declaring there was "urgent need for action" in expanding higher-education opportunities, the governor also recommended increased use of educational television and suggested year-round use of college facilities.

The majority members of the Republican-controlled Legislature gave preliminary approval at party conferences last week to the governor's outline. GOP leaders gave the lawmakers an advance report on what his formal message would contain.

Governor's Proposals

Rockefeller proposed:

1. Annual state grants to New York residents attending in-state schools at which tuition is $500 or more a year. Grants for undergraduates would range to $200. Graduate students would be entitled to help ranging to $800, depending on their level of study.
2. Doubling the number of Regents' scholarships from 5 percent to 10 percent of the total number of high-school graduates, $12 million by 1965.
3. Establishment of two graduate centers for the State University. One would be at the university's Long Island Center at Stony Brook, the other at an Upstate site not yet announced.
4. The graduate facilities would cost $4.5 million.
5. Development of a program for using television in higher education throughout the state.
6. Expansion, with state help, of an existing plan under which stu (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Swift Freedom Seen for Those On Rebel Liner

RECIFE, Brazil (AP)—A U. S. admiral met Portuguese rebel Capt. Henrique Galvao at sea today in a conference that could mean swift freedom for the nearly 600 passengers aboard the captive liner Santa Maria.

Atlantic Fleet headquarters in Norfolk, Va., announced the rendezvous of Rear Adm. Allen E. Smith Jr., and Galvao who seized the $16.6 million ship Jan. 22.

Smith said later his first talks with Galvao were "in general good." In a report to fleet headquarters the admiral quoted Galvao as saying he believes the new Brazilian administration taking office today will permit the Santa Maria to enter Recife Wednesday.

Smith, the Navy's Caribbean commander, sped out from Recife at daybreak aboard the U. S. destroyer Gearing to a point about 35 miles offshore where Galvao waited for the inauguration today of a new Brazilian president who has informally offered him and the ship safe haven.

The Navy announced the admiral went aboard the Santa Maria at 6:50 a. m. This conformed to original plans. It was reported here Monday night that Galvao had asked that the meeting be held on the destroyer.

The Gearing halted about 500 yards from the Santa Maria and Smith and his party, including two American diplomats posted in Brazil, made the crossing in a motor whaleboat.

A Recife tug carried 61 newsmen to the area, but was requested by the Navy to keep some distance away so as not to impede the Navy's operations.

The U. S. destroyer Damato was also on hand and two others, the destroyers Wilson and Vogelgesang, were expected to join forces with her and the Gearing.

Dutchess Crib Death Is Ruled As Accidental

Dutchess County authorities have reported a preliminary investigation of accidental death due to strangulation in the case of an eight-month-old boy found dead in a crib in his Poughkeepsie home Sunday.

Police Chief John L. Martin said the accidental death finding was reached after an autopsy performed on Bruce Allen Heisler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heisler of 69 South Clover Street.

The chief said the boy's mother told authorities she put her son in bed at 9:30 p. m. Saturday and that he was all right when she looked at him about 1 a. m. Sunday. About five hours later she found the child's head wedged between the slats on the right side of the crib.

Mrs. Heisler took her son from the crib and attempted to revive him with mouth-to-mouth breathing, while authorities were summoned. A city physician pronounced the child dead.

Dr. William Thompson, Rhinebeck, assistant county medical examiner gave the preliminary finding.

Pharmacy, Shoe

Cut Rate Pharmacy, Harry Goddard represented the purchasers and William Canfield of Detroit, Mich., represented the Kresge sellers.

Esopus Holding Corporation is composed of members of the Svirsky family, owners of the real estate and operators of the pharmacy.

Stamps on the deed filed in the office of the Ulster County clerk indicate a price in excess of $100,000.

The United Pharmacy will continue to carry the same lines of drugs, pharmaceuticals, cosmetics, and toiletries. In addition will have the franchise for Barton's continental chocolates.

To Start Remodeling Soon

Tenancy of the adjoining store by Thom McAn, a part of a chain of 850 stores, was announced today when a member of the Svirsky family said that extensive alterations will begin soon. A major effort will be made he said to "create a shopping center area that will please shoppers and be a credit to the community."

Occupying an area of upwards of 25,000 square feet the store will be engineered for maximum display and maximum service. The Thom McAn store adjoining the pharmacy will have an area of approximately 2,000 square feet of floor space for its line of men's and boy's wear.

Lester Fallon, president of Thom McAn set the tentative opening date for mid-March. "We know the area folks since we've been here before, the only reason we left Kingston during the war was because a shortage of materials made it impossible to maintain high standards of quality consistent with our popular appeal prices," he said.

The store will be owned and operated by a local company, Kingston Thom McAn, Inc., according to John J. Malone, district director for the chain.

The store will have a frontage of 15 feet, with large display windows on either side of the vestibule entrance. Over 90 feet in depth, the interior will provide an informal lounge atmosphere with comfortable seating and open display of merchandise so that a customer may browse and examine the shoes at leisure.

Probe Is Asked Of Blue Cross

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The chairman of the Assembly committee on insurance called today for an investigation of what he termed "shocking and brazen" abuses by the Blue Cross and Blue Shield health-insurance organizations.

Lucio F. Russo, R-State Island, asked the Legislature to authorize his committee to conduct the probe. He requested a $35,000 appropriation.

The assemblyman said the investigation would be designed to find ways and means of keeping costs of the health protection "within the reach of the people who need it."

Russo proposed in a resolution that any applications for health-insurance agencies have pending be denied, at least until completion of the proposed investigation.

Castro Still Mum On Fate of 6 Linked to Rebels

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime still has not indicated what it will do with six Americans tried by a military tribunal on charges of trying to aid anti-Castro rebels.

Castro — reportedly considering the fate of the six himself — has sent hundreds of his foes to the execution wall after trial on similar conspiracy charges. There is speculation he might not be so harsh with the Americans, as a goodwill gesture toward the new Kennedy administration.

The prosecution demanded the death sentence in a 2½-hour trial Saturday in ancient La Cabana fortress. The Americans claimed they sailed to Havana in a stolen boat to help defend the Castro revolution.

They are George R. Beck, 24, of Norton, Mass.; Tommy L. Baker, 28, of Dothan, Ala.; Donald Joe Green, 28, of Gastonia, N.C.; James E. Boon, 34, of Cedar Falls, N.C.; Alfred Eugene Gibson, 32, of Mount Gilead, N.C.; and Leonard Louis Schmidt, 21, of Chicago.

"If our monitors show the chimp is working the levers, we will be sure of three things," an official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported.

"He has at least one eye open to see; his brain is functioning, and he is physically able to perform because he is raising and lowering his arms."

Six Astronauts Watch

Six of the seven astronauts were spectators at the launching. If the chimp comes through the flight harmed, one of the human space men may travel the same route within two months.

Ships, planes and helicopters waited in the planned impact zone in the Atlantic Ocean northeast of Grand Bahama Island, ready to recover the capsule in which the chimp rode.

Ape Takes It In Stride

The 374-pound male ape grinned and waved his arms when he was placed in the capsule at 6 a. m. Observers said "he seemed at ease about the whole thing."

Medical men picked him Monday from a group of four males and two females who had been trained for the job. The choice was based on his physical condition and mental attitude.

The slender, 85-foot Redstone soared smoothly from its pad, a bright trail of flame tracing its course as it raced across a clear blue sky. As the hot rocket penetrated the cold layer of air in the upper atmosphere, a puffy white contrail appeared in its wake.

Cape observers saw what appeared to be capsule separation about 140 seconds after launch at an altitude of approximately 35 miles.

The money donated supports the National Foundation's fight against these three diseases and is carried on through research, patient aid and professional education.

Khrush Meeting Is Up to Kennedy, Moscow Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communist sources say Soviet Premier Khrushchev plans to be in the United States for the United Nations session in March and it is up to President Kennedy whether the two will meet.

Khrushchev himself is represented as agreeable to a meeting.

Word of Khrushchev's intentions and attitude was brought to Washington Monday by Communist diplomats attached to the United Nations. They said they got it from Moscow.

The General Assembly reconvenes March 7. The sources said Khrushchev intends to be there for one week.

The Communist diplomat said their information is that Khrushchev would be willing to go into either a highly informal get-acquainted session with Kennedy, or to sit down with him for very extensive talks. They reported his tentative plans do not extend to any travel outside of New York.

The sources said the decision on any sort of meeting, and on the circumstances as well, would be a matter for Kennedy.

Kennedy was asked at his news conference last week about the prospects for a meeting with Khrushchev.

"There are no plans at the present time for a meeting with Mr. Khrushchev," the President replied, but newsmen noted that he had not foreclosed the possibility of different plans at any later time.

Denial Is Made By Vidal on '62 Senate Interest

Gore Vidal, Barrytown playwright and unsuccessful Democratic candidate for Congress from the 29th district last November, has denied reports circulated in Dutchess County that he is seeking a seat in the United States Senate in 1962.

Reports in Dutchess County were that prominent Democrats and independent groups who supported Vidal in his campaign against Republican incumbent Rep. M. Ernest Wharton were launching a drive to nominate him for a seat in the Senate.

Vidal was quoted as saying, "1962 does not look particularly auspicious for me, and as for 1964, well, it's a long time off."

The playwright, who recently returned from Europe, said he had no plans at the moment, "either personally or politically."

Vidal made an unusually strong showing in his race for Congress in the Republican dominated district last November.

Four occupants of a car involved in a mishap at Clinton Avenue and Maiden Lane were taken to Kingston Hospital and no injuries were reported after two other Monday afternoon mishaps.

Shirley Mae Zimmerman, 30, of Box 157, Neighborhood Road, Lake Katrine, driver of the one car, and Sheryl Zimmerman, 11, who suffered head injuries, remained at the hospital overnight, and police said two others, Bobbi Jane, 3, and Paul Keith Zimmerman, 7, were taken there for X-rays.

The other car, owned by Ernest C. Smith, of 434 Washington Avenue, police said, was driven by James Henry Longhi, 31, of 35 VanBuren Street. The Zimmerman car, it was reported, came to rest on a section of Maiden Lane sidewalk. The accident was reported at 3:35 p. m. Officers John Kennedy and Kenneth Radel investigated.

Two other mishaps were reported between 5 and 5:30 p. m. One at 5:05 p. m., at Clinton Avenue and Franklin Street, involving cars driven by Charles W. Chouinier, 26, of 225 Sixth Avenue, Troy, and another operated by Anthony C. Locastro, 45, of 40 Lake Street, Stamford, N. Y. Officers Otto Short and Leon Fitzgerald investigated.

In the other, reported at 5:30 p. m., on Hudson Street, the one car was driven by Albert Swartz, 429 Abel Street, and the other, parked at the curb, was owned by Thomas J. Smith, 55 Hudson Street. The report said the Swartz car had pulled to the right to permit another car to pass. The mishap was reported to Officer Radel.

Friday for New York City, ground to a halt Monday near Saugerties. The 150-mile passage Charles Holliday Sr. of Catskill, a veteran river pilot, said ice in the channel was 18 inches thick.

The extended period of sub-zero readings in the Albany area, now in its 11th day, is the longest on record. The previous record of 9 days was set the winter of 1917-18.

Holliday said he walked across the ice to a freighter when he relieved another pilot Thursday at Malden.

He said it was the first time he had been able to walk to a ship in the river in the 42 years he has been a pilot.

Port Ewen Group Discusses Snow Removal, Sewers

Snow removal and sewage systems were discussed at the Thursday night meeting of the Port Ewen Businessmen's Association.

The organization has been working for some time to promote a sewer district. The group plans to approach the town board on the matter, getting them to collect facts and figures necessary to acquaint residents with all phases of the project.

A hearing will be called after all the facts are assembled. It was brought to the attention of members that several business firms had wanted to locate in Port Ewen recently but were unable to do so because of the lack of sewage disposal facilities.

Removal of snow from Route 9W in the business section was the subject of much discussion. Since the meeting however snow removers have put the highway in much better condition and it is possible for customers to reach stores in the business district.

3 Is County Low Oswego Is Struck By 3-Foot Snow; State Warms Up

Only one Ulster County section reported a sub-zero temperature reading Monday night as most of the area and state climbed off its iceberg.

The coldest spot in the county, according to an unofficial survey, was at Browns Station where a low of -3 was recorded. For the record, the -3 was the 12th straight night of sub-zero readings for the county.

City Records 8 Above Here in Kingston the mercury climbed to a welcomed eight degrees above zero and this reading reflected the general warming up situation.

But as the weather warmed the outlook was for more of the white stuff—and the snow had already penetrated the freeze-freeze sections of the state.

Up to three feet of snow plastered Oswego County, southeast of Lake Ontario late Monday afternoon and evening but had tapered off into snow flurries this morning.

Five inches fell on Buffalo's southern suburbs, east of Lake Erie but elsewhere the fall was light. Some more light snow was forecast for most areas of the Western Catskills and lower and upper Hudson Valley areas.

The welcomed relief in the temperatures was felt in other Ulster County sections.

Hempstead Warmest Tillson was 8 above and Saugerties, at the municipal building, reported 6 above. A reading of two above was reported at the Blue Mountain Reservoir area.

The highest overnight temperature in the state, meanwhile, was clocked at Hempstead where the mercury shot up to 16. The coldest was Plattsburgh's -8.

Other lows were: Glens Falls -3; Albany -1; Oneonta 0; Watertown and Massena 3 above; Speculator 4; Elburgh 5; Binghamton 6; Carthage 7; Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and East Aurora 8; Buffalo and Olean 11; Rochester 12; Syracuse 14 and New York City 15.

The troubles experienced by shipping in the Hudson River also was reflecting on other major waterways of the nation.

Inland waterways from the Mississippi to the Hudson were caught in the tightening stranglehold of ice as the cold spell entered its 13th day for many areas.

Worst in 28 Years Riverboat men waged a losing battle against the ice-choked Mississippi near Cairo, Ill. Three ice jugs, two five miles long and one eight miles long, have all but halted traffic on the big river. A barge official said it would take 30-degree temperatures and rain to break the jams. The reading early today was 21.

One Mississippi towboat captain described the ice situation as the worst he'd seen in 28 years.

At Grand Haven, Mich., Coast Guard ships struggled to free a cutter locked tight in Lake Michigan ice. Three other ships were freed from dense ice field Monday. One of them, the Milwaukee Clipper, has been ice-locked three times in as many days while carrying passengers and freight from Milwaukee to Muskegon, Mich.

Allegheny at Standstill Army engineers at Pittsburgh reported traffic at a standstill on the usually busy Allegheny River. Traffic was reported moving but slowed on the Monongahela and the Ohio.

Temperatures remained below freezing from the middle Mississippi Valley northward with sub-zero readings in northern Minnesota and northern New England.

Elsewhere a warming trend pushed the mercury above freezing from the Rockies and south central Plains eastward to the middle and south Atlantic and Gulf states.

West Palm Beach, Fla., reported a high of 66 with International Falls, Minn., reporting a low of minus 13.

1st Hearing Today plan a public hearing Feb. 9 on units at the college level.

The Diendorf Committee—the Joint Legislative Committee on School Financing—plans to make its study independent of the Board of Regents and the State Education Department.

Promises Cooperation James E. Allen Jr., state education commissioner, has promised that his department will cooperate with the legislative group, however.

Diendorf, in outlining the study, said his committee would emphasize finances and would go into the costs of building and operating schools and, to some extent, their curricula.

Diendorf has said he doubted whether the committee would make any recommendations to the 1961 Legislature.

The committee was to have submitted its report by Jan. 15. However, there was a delay of several months in appointing the 14 members.

It is operating with an appropriation of $150,000.

Administrator Is Back on Seaway

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy reappointed Martin W. Oettershagen Monday as administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. Oettershagen, 69, has been acting administrator of the Seaway since last June. Now a resident of Massena, N. Y., Oettershagen worked in Chicago during the early 1900s on various construction jobs. He later went to work for the city's engineering department. In 1954, he became port manager of the Chicago regional port district.

Must Serve Time For Mail Fraud

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The former president of a uranium mining company here has been directed to start serving an 18-month federal prison term on a mail fraud conviction.

The company's assets have been frozen by court order since 1958. Anthony J. Fargo, 41, of Rochester, was sentenced in July, 1959, after a Federal District Court jury here found him guilty of eight counts of mail fraud. He had been free in $30,000 bond pending appeal.

Fargo headed the Uran Mining Corp., of Rochester, which the government said sold $250,000 in stock to area residents. The State Supreme Court froze its assets. Fargo was ordered to surrender in U.S. District Court here Monday.

Dutchess Ensign Escapes Injury In Plane Crash

A U. S. Navy ensign, whose mother resides in Poughkeepsie, escaped serious injury in the crash of a Navy Constellation at Midway Island, which took the lives of three crew members and six others in the path of the plane as it skidded down the runway on Sunday, Jan. 22.

He is James Darnell, son of Mrs. E. Carey Kennedy, Eden Roc apartment, Academy Street, Poughkeepsie.

In a letter to his mother, Ensign Kennedy said everything seemed normal as the plane approached the runway, then there was a loud crack and flames. He and 16 crew members got out within 30 seconds before the plane "shot up in flames like a roman candle," and an extra five hours of fuel aboard added to the fire.

Apparently the plane commander was trying to land close to the edge of a short runway when a piece of jutting coral sheared off the main landing gear, Kennedy said.

Ensign Kennedy is a graduate of Dartmouth College and of the Officers' Candidate school, Newport, R. I. He has been assigned to the Airborne Early Warning squadron in Hawaii since May, 1960.

Goodell May Go Own Way, Vote Larger Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., while maintaining his opposition to many of President Kennedy's programs, may break with Upstate New York Republicans and vote to enlarge the House Rules Committee.

Goodell gave qualified approval Monday to enlarging the committee from 12 to 15 members. A vote on the plan by House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., to break conservative control of the committee was scheduled today.

Goodell, in a statement inserted in the Congressional Record, said he would support Rayburn if Democrats guaranteed that an enlarged rules committee would not limit debate and deprive House members from offering amendments to important administration bills.

Goodell said he was still strongly opposed to much of the "so-called Kennedy program" but wanted to beat that program fairly—"by an open vote."

Why settle for the inconvenience of an awkward "lift-up" gate?

Before you put hard-earned cash on the line for any compact wagon, just try this: open the tailgate. If it swings up, as shown at left, you could be in for some lumps and bumps on the head as your cargo rolls out. But Falcon's tailgate, with the built-in, roll-down window, swings down. That means easier loading—and 26.1 inches more cargo deck (with tailgate down) for carting those long loads—up to 31% more cargo area with tailgate up. No doubt about it. Falcon hauls more—and that's what you buy a compact wagon for!

Pay up to $508 more? What for?
Only Falcon offers the just-right compact wagon!

Just Right in Convenience!

Check the current crop of compact wagons. You'll find they all fall short of Falcon's convenience. For instance, seven out of eleven don't give you a handy, swing-down tailgate with roll-down rear window on all models. There's attention paid even to the "little" conveniences, such as two arm rests, two sun visors, two coat hooks, all standard at no extra cost! And of course, you can have your choice of Tudor or Fordor Falcon Wagons, too.

Just Right in Price!

Cast an eye on that low price sticker and you realize what a sensational value the Falcon wagon really is! Imagine... up to $508 less* than some compact wagons, not stripped but equipped the way most people want their wagon... including radio, heater, automatic transmission and deluxe trim. With all this that you save on Falcon's low price, you're still driving a dazzling new beauty, handsomer than ever inside and out.

Just Right in Economy!

Of all compact wagons, Falcon's the economy champ! America's sweetest, savingest 6-cylinder engine takes you up to 30 miles per gallon on regular gasoline—4,000 miles between oil changes. And Falcon's sensible engineering makes for rock-bottom repair costs and lower maintenance, too. You save on tires, mufflers, every driving cost in the book. P.S. For an extra measure of performance, try Falcon's brisk, new 170 Special engine option.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JANUARY 31, 1961

PICTURE OF AMERICA

The United States Information Agency did itself proud in bringing the inaugural ceremonies to the attention of humanity. The inauguration was broadcast more widely than any other political event—all over the globe, in 35 languages. Films of the event were dispatched to our ambassadors abroad, for us in numerous countries, within a few days.

This was as it should be, for the orderly transfer of power exemplified in those ceremonies is one of the great virtues of our system of government. Hardly anything could speak more clearly, to the peoples of the world, the fundamental difference between totalitarianism and democracy.

Since the event was heard and seen by so many millions abroad, it is good to reflect that both ceremonies and setting were marked by an appealing simplicity. Here were none of the trappings so dear to dictatorial regimes—the acres of bunting, the vast portraits of hero leaders, and all the rest of it.

What the world saw, instead, was solemn but not pretentious. The Deity was invoked, an inspiring poem was recited by the beloved elder poet who wrote it years ago, a simply dressed man took the oath of office and then spoke eloquent words to his countrymen and to all the world.

This was a picture of America vastly different from the concept prevalent abroad—the stereotype of America as a land of loud-mouthed, tasteless free spenders forever hustling in pursuit of the dollar. Here was a picture of America placing authority in the hands of a man humbly conscious of his grave responsibility. It was a good picture for mankind to see.

BLIGHT OF CONFORMITY

The desire for conformity is one of our greatest curses. It crops up notably in business, where employees and junior executives are too often virtually forbidden to do or say anything that might be called controversial. The yes man, in many cases, gets most of the favor from his superiors.

All this is done in the sacred cause of profit, which to many justifies almost everything. It is therefore interesting to find one of the world's richest men, J. Paul Getty, declaring that "no one can possibly achieve any real and lasting success or get rich in business by being a conformist."

In a magazine article, Getty calls dynamic individualism the most priceless quality that an executive can possess. He finds that too many business men especially the younger, conform to petty, arbitrary codes and conventions, trying to prove themselves stable and reliable, but only demonstrating that they are "unimaginative, unenterprising and mediocre." The really successful man, Getty believes, is rarely satisfied with the status quo.

There is wishful thinking in Getty's point of view, but one cannot deny that his basic thesis is sound. Our society does need more men and women both able and willing to think and act as individuals rather than as mere conformist ciphers in the mass of humanity.

ADDED SPACE ACHE

As if they didn't have enough potential problems to worry about, astronauts may have to face the possibility of acquiring kidney stones in space. Dr. B. Dwight Culver of Aerojet-General Corp. predicts that prolonged weightlessness will release bone calcium into the kidney system, causing the formation of stones.

"The spaceman would return to earth in extremely poor physical condition," he says. "He would probably need immediate surgery."

The Air Force is getting a new bomber capable of carrying four ballistic missiles and some hydrogen bombs. For brushfire wars, no doubt.

It isn't that the day's aren't long enough; they're as long as they've ever been. It's just that we don't cram enough into them.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE PRESIDENT AND GOLD

What President Kennedy said at his first press conference about gold is correct, but should he have said it? It would seem to be that any statement on gold should be sudden, without warning so that the speculators have no impetus to drive up the price. Much of our troubles arise from the speculative activities on the London market.

The United States purchases gold at $35 an ounce. The price Friday on the London market was $35.43 an ounce. The speculative price has been as high as over $40 an ounce.

Gold these days is mined principally in South Africa and Soviet Russia. There is small mining in the United States, Canada and elsewhere but these account for so little that they need not enter into any calculation. The South African gold is extremely important and the American companies interested in the mineral have made huge investments in South African mines. However, as the speculative price of gold is higher than the American price, little, if any, of the South African product has, in recent months, come to this country. It is consumed mostly by European banks and individuals. Also, the Japanese have been buying gold.

The United States needs gold to provide a 25 per cent coverage for its currency. It has recently been losing gold too rapidly and in too great quantities for economic safety. There are, of course, those who do not believe in a gold basis for money and who do believe in fiat money despite the frightful experience of other countries with inflationary procedures. One cannot argue with such persons because they refuse to recognize what has been true since ancient Egypt and Babylon that the human race traditionally and historically recognizes money as good when backed by gold and inadequate when not backed by gold.

In the United States, there has often been some opposition to gold. Probably the most effective of the anti-gold movements was the Populist Party which developed in the Middle West in opposition to Wall Street. The principal proponent of Populism was William Jennings Bryan, who ran on the Democratic ticket for President three times and was thrice defeated. He wanted the ratio of silver to gold to be 16 to one and his effort was popularly called "The Free Silver Movement." The Western farmer wanted what he called cheap money to move his crops, but cheap money could not have developed American industry which was borrowing money all over the world to get going. In 1890, a new process was developed for the processing of gold which made the minerals more accessible. Between the Administrations of William McKinley and Franklin D. Roosevelt, the United States remained on the gold standard and American money was sound and hard. Franklin D. Roosevelt went off the gold standard and the Supreme Court upheld him in the Gold Repeal Joint Resolution decision.

Nevertheless, the United States developed into the largest possessor of gold, holding a hoard of $24,500,000,000 at one time. This has now deteriorated into about $17,000,000,000 which is inadequate. The problem is to restore the American gold hoard to at least $18,000,000,000 to protect the dollar, to bring back to the United States about $20,000,000,000 of "hot money" — money out of circulation now resting in many parts of the world and to restore respect for our currency universally. This will not be achieved by a Task Force of a lot of professors who do not understand the operations of money markets. One such professor wrote me that nobody needs actual currency to move money from the United States to some other country because letters of credit and such devices move money, but the professor apparently did not understand the nature of "hot money," of untaxed money, of bootleggers and heroin dealers money. He apparently does not understand the nature of the tax havens and what they do to American currency.

These are matters that the President must deal with if our gold is to be recaptured or if new gold is to be brought in. To announce a fixed date when the problem will be dealt with is to stimulate speculation, to raise the price of gold in the London market which means that more gold will seep out of the United States. The best way to handle a sensitive commodity like gold is to be absolutely silent about it — but absolutely.

★ The Doctor Says ★

Cortical Steroid Family
Beneficial—Under Control

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A discerning correspondent asks "How is it that cortical steroids have so many different names and are used for so many different conditions that don't seem to be related? I'm getting injections of one preparation in a bursa. One of my fellow librarians is taking another in pill form for arthritis. And her brother was relieved of an attack of asthma the other night with an injection of still another product."

To take the easiest question first, The cortical steroids are available in many forms, under many different names, merely as a means for identifying the products of different manufacturers.

Like the many different makes of automobiles, any one of which will take you where you want to go and bring you back, the different brands of cortical steroid are basically alike. They differ only in minor details like the size of the effective dose. One doctor uses one brand and another a competing brand, just as one drives a Ford and another a Chevrolet or a Plymouth.

Just so long as the individual doctor gets to know the brand he is using, it doesn't make much difference which he prescribes or injects. Like his car, it gets him and his patient where they want to go and, when they're ready to return brings them back.

As for the more difficult question regarding the number and variety of conditions for which steroids are used, the explanation is more difficult.

The basic reaction of the human body to any injury is the process of inflammation. Whether you suffer a bump, a burn, an infection or an allergy, you'll react with the fundamental responses of pain, redness, heat and swelling. And, ordinarily you try to increase that reaction by rubbing the spot, applying a hot water bottle or an electric pad, soaking in a warm fluid, or anointing the area with an irritant like mustard or wintergreen oil.

Now every once in a while, the inflammatory reaction gets out of hand, like the kick of a gun. And when that happens the reaction may be worse than its cause. Too much reaction makes your bursa bulge until it aches. It limits the mobility of your fellow librarians' joints. It causes her brother's bronchial tubes to clamp down until he can't get air out or into his lungs.

In each of these instances, the cortical steroid acts like its parent gland. It has an anti-inflammatory action that relieves each of you temporarily. Your bursa quiets down. Your companion's joints loosen up. And her brother's bronchi relax. But it cures nothing.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— There were a few changes in United States foreign and domestic policies revealed by President John F. Kennedy in his first news conference, but not many.

In summary, after a mere five days in office, the new President appears to be aggressive but cautiously feeling his way. He is no wild radical as some opponents predicted he would be.

Although former President Eisenhower had made release of the two RE-47 pilots a condition to further conferences with the Russians, President Kennedy says their return to America does not mean he is committed to talk with Khrushchev.

Actually, Kennedy did nothing to get the U. S. fliers released. He sent no new ambassador to Moscow. Khrushchev ordered the release on his own initiative, to show that he wanted better relations with the United States.

THIS IS NO INDICATION that the international situation has greatly improved overnight. The President admits that tensions are still quite high.

Relations with Cuba are unchanged, though the welfare of the Cuban people and the introduction of foreign arms and ideologies on the island are of concern to the United States.

The new administration continues support for British efforts to reconstitute the international control commission to oversee conditions in Laos.

Eisenhower's order suspending U-2 flights over Soviet territory remains in effect unchanged.

WHAT IS NEW in all these situations is that diplomats under Secretary of State Dean Rusk are more actively trying to improve American foreign relations by quiet diplomacy.

It is a slight change in manner, not in policy. One effect is to put foreign pressures for an early summit meeting.

The request for a delay in the Geneva conference on suspension of nuclear weapons testing does not yet represent a change in policy—only a change in timing. This problem is being given more careful study along with general disarmament by the advisory commission under John J. McCloy.

The "Food for Peace" program has been made more aggressively effective. Relief shipments to the Congo are being stepped up immediately to support UN stabilization efforts in that country.

And even though the Communist Chinese have not asked for food and may not need it, the President says the United States would consider carefully proposals to ship food to Red China, "if people's lives are at stake."

ON THE DOMESTIC FRONT, the new administration will use food more aggressively to combat distress from unemployment, to the extent that "Section 22" funds from U. S. customs permit.

The President does indicate more changes coming up. There will be special messages on greater aid for the unemployed, improvement of the United States economy, how to deal with America's declining balance of payments and the outflow of gold—without bringing back the families of United States servicemen stationed abroad.

All this will be new and probably different. So the President's statement that no decision has yet been made on increasing Eisenhower's $80 billion dollar budget for next year must be taken with a large grain of salt.

Kennedy appears to be following the Eisenhower policy of noninterference with Congress in determining its own procedures, as in the proposal to change the House Rules Committee. The President will also follow the Eisenhower policy of keeping the vice president fully prepared to assume the responsibilities of chief executive in an emergency.

The new President indicates he will be more vigorous in enforcement of civil rights, but on electoral college reform he is ready to back only moderate election law changes.

KENNEDY APPEARS TO BE more willing than his predecessor to make information held by his executive agencies available to Congressional committees and the public. The only limitation is that there be no release of national security information.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

I do not think I could improve on what Augustus H. Van Buren wrote in his "Ulster County Under the Dutch" in Kingston in 1923. He writes in part on page 143: "The Dutch were a strong people. They had spent centuries in wrestling their half-submerged land from the waters of the ocean. Over a century in a struggle with the most powerful nation in Europe to achieve liberty for themselves and their children. They were educated far beyond any other people of Europe."

Mr. Van Buren further wrote in 1923: "They were brave, honest, frugal, intensely conservative, strictly kept the conjugal tie, believed in an ever-living God and their religious creed. They were afraid of and bent the knee to no man. Such were the people who settled the land of the Esopus and peopled the valley of the Hudson. They have left their impress upon every page of the history of the Empire State."

This book was given to me by Harry Righy Jr., some 10 years ago and I enjoy it still. The above written by Van Buren reminds me somewhat of what President John F. Kennedy said in his acceptance speech.

Van Buren also says, that people think that the city of Kingston was settled by simple Dutchmen, and that is why it is called Old Dutch Town. He feels that all persecuted peoples and religions found their way to Kingston as well as cosmopolitan New York City. Some who think they have a Dutch sounding name, (he writes in part, on page 142) may be another foreign name, not Dutch at all, but the way it was spelled in the Dutch records, and sounded to them in Dutch.

In those days, Van Buren explains, few people had surnames, and those who had, seldom used

Kennedy Domestic Views
Attacked, Foreign Praised

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—If the aspirations of President John F. Kennedy, as revealed in his "State of the Union" address to Congress, could ever be fulfilled, he would be the greatest chief executive in our history.

If the rest of the world heeded his plea to reform themselves and shape their policies to conform with President Kennedy's ideas, especially in the use of our funds, Utopia would be just around the corner. In fact, the President's cordial invitation to the Russians to join us on a trip to Venus and Mars wouldn't seem so unreal either.

For, on international policy, it was a splendid message—in keeping with the ideals set forth time and again by President Eisenhower.

On domestic policy, the speech was a series of contradictions between hope and reality, between theory and practicality.

While painting a gloomy picture of the internal economy of the United States and presenting a fine analysis of the gold problem—on which, incidentally, his views are as "sound as a dollar"—there wasn't a single sentence that explained the causes of the so-called "recession."

Really Indicted the Past

Mr. Kennedy professed not to "indict the past," but he proceeded nevertheless to do just that. He spoke of "seven years of diminished economic growth," though the figures show that the "gross national product" has increased every year in that period. Later on, the President qualified his verdict somewhat by saying that after 1958 "our gross national product never regained its full potential."

These were few details as to what the new administration intends to do about all the ills which it says are present in our domestic economy, though it promises that the new program of expenditures, "including revenue from a stimulation of the economy, will not of and by themselves unbalance the earlier budget." It is difficult to know just what this means, though evidently the purpose is to reassure everybody that inflation of the dollar isn't going to be the remedy.

It's hard, however, to see how the government will balance its budget when it proposes such vast spending programs as Mr. Kennedy mentioned, or how the cost of living will be kept down. For the truth is Mr. Kennedy didn't say a word about the state of economic anarchy which has swept America—the assertion of economic power by irresponsible groups. Today the unemployed can't get jobs because the wage level has gone up faster than companies can absorb. Profits are reduced, but wages never, indeed the AFL-CIO is demanding a 30-hour week with the same pay as for 40 hours. This is hardly the way to increase employment. It is the road to more bankruptcies.

Domestic Part Political

The domestic part of the President's address was plainly political and partisan. It raised high hopes and talked optimistically of desired reforms. But how can they really be achieved? Mr. Kennedy spoke two sentences in his address that will puzzle Americans a good deal. He said:

"Before my term has ended, we shall have to test anew whether a nation organized and governed such as ours can endure." The outcome is by no means certain."

Did the President mean that a controlled economy would have to be imposed from the top? Did he mean that, in the present state of conflicting forces, the groups with the largest vote-getting power are to be heeded, irrespective of the merit of their demands? How can any pressure group be made aware of its responsibility to the nation if the President himself in his message to Congress completely ignores the irresponsibility of such groups which have brought on the present recession and could conceivably make it worse?

Military Proposals Welcomed

On the military side, the President's proposals will be welcomed as a sound policy of protection. As to the words addressed to foreign nations, Mr. Kennedy's advisers gave him the right counsel. He does not minimize the Communist threat. Indeed, he pointedly drew attention, for instance, to Latin America as an area in which "Communist agents seeking to exploit that region's peaceful revolution of hope have established a base on Cuba, only 90 miles from our shores." Mr. Kennedy declared flatly, amid applause, that "Communist domination in this hemisphere can never be negotiated."

There was, moreover, a note of restraint in holding forth the Olive Branch of negotiation with respect to other world problems. Mr. Kennedy made an eloquent plea for support of the United Nations, and warned smaller nations not to abandon their ideals. Perhaps most significant was the President's statement that "no Atlantic power can meet on its own the mutual problems now facing us in defense, foreign aid, monetary reserves, and a host of other areas."

Important Part of Talk

Most important in the whole address was the following succinctly worded statement: "The first great obstacle is still our relations with the Soviet Union and Communist China. We must never be lulled into believing that either power has yielded its ambitions for world domination — ambitions which they forcefully restated only a short time ago. On the contrary, our task is to convince them that aggression and subversion will not be profitable routes to pursue these ends."

This utterance transcends all other in the address and, if pursued by Mr. Kennedy's cabinet and other advisers, it will go a long way toward removing fears that the new administration "to appease our potential enemy." (Reproduction . . . reserved)

Booklet on CD To Be Sent With Feb. Water Bill

Three local organizations are cooperating this month in an effort to make the public more aware and cognizant of Civil Defense. They are the Civil Defense Agency, Kingston Water Board and the Operation Survival Committee of Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Superintendent Edmund Cloonan, through Edwin Wetterhahn, has allowed the Jaycees to forward 3,000 pamphlets with the February first quarterly water bill statements. The pamphlet, obtained from the Civil Defense by the Operation Survival Committee, is entitled "Let's Stop Talking Nonsense About Fallout," written by Stewart Alsop and appeared last July 23, in the Saturday Evening Post. In this short four-page pamphlet Alsop belies the late Nevil Shute's assumption in his novel "On the Beach" that all is hopeless in an atomic attack. It is well written and very informative.

The Operation Survival Committee is headed by Emil Buhler, 30 Warren Street. Aiding him are Charles Arnold of the Civil Defense, Ernest Rowe, Marvin Millens, Robert Tighe, Jason Goumas and Donald Droulette of the Jaycees. The committee folded the pamphlets and delivered them to the Water Board where Gordon Craig Jr. and the Water Department staff included them with the February water bills.

The Operation Survival Committee has taped radio programs in connection with Civil Defense as well as public service announcements which will soon be heard over the three local radio stations. In addition to these pamphlets 10,000 others showing how to properly build an atomic fallout shelter will be distributed in the Greater Kingston Area sometime in March. What the general public fails to realize, is that an atomic fallout is not necessarily catastrophic, providing certain steps are taken, a spokesman for the committee said. The committee will work diligently to see that a marked improvement in the public attitude toward Civil Defense is made, he said.

MANNEQUINS—Likenesses of President John F. Kennedy and his wife, Jacqueline, will soon be modeling clothes in retail stores throughout the country. The mannequins, manufactured by Tero, Inc., of New York City, will be offered to the trade on a one-store-to-a-city basis.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The very grimness of President Kennedy's view of the state of the economy could give business a lift.

This seeming paradox lies in the response that Wall Street and business planners often take to any indication that Washington is about to loosen further the government purse strings.

And they figure that if the President thinks business is that bad at home and defense needs that urgent, he'll lend an ear to advocates of more spending.

After their first reaction to the President's State of the Union message, stock traders might well take the view that certain industries are bound to be getting new orders soon, that new money will be finding its way into the pockets of the unemployed and others, that various other spending schemes will be pushed.

Such programs usually take a time to be turned into actual money in the till, but the prospect of their approach could give a new outlook on business prospects to many who have been waiting to see just what the new administration would do.

President Kennedy says flatly we've been in a recession since mid 1960. And he thinks the recovery from the 1958 recession itself wasn't very convincing. All of which, he says, calls for government action which he'll spell out in coming days.

At the same time, however, he pledges to keep the dollar sound. Just how he proposes to do both—push government pump priming and avoid further inflation—he promises to outline later.

Business already had taken note of the sizable jump in government expenditures proposed in the 1962 fiscal budget offered by outgoing President Eisenhower. And businessmen are well aware that Kennedy's advisers are urging plans that would call for still larger spending. The Wall Street bulls have tentatively started pawing the ground.

Businessmen—both Democrats and Republicans—could take the same attitude as to the probable effect on the economy of the State of the Union views. Democrats, along with most labor leaders, will say it's about time Washington admitted business conditions needed a helping hand. Republicans, although doubtless thinking the pump priming unnecessary, will see it as threatening more inflation—the end result being business stimulation, however unhealthy.

The conservative view of present business conditions differs materially from Kennedy's. It holds with President Eisenhower that most of the current troubles are due to cutbacks in inventories. It stresses that final demand is sustained—that is, consumption of goods is at about the same pace as this time last year. Factories and merchants just aren't laying in stocks.

Career Session At New Paltz Is On Mental Health

A Career Day session was held at the New Paltz High School recently, on "Mental Health and Careers in Mental Health." Mrs. Irma Feldman, representative of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, addressed about 150 students, juniors and seniors, at the school.

Dr. Eugene Link, head of the Dept. of Sociology, New York State College of Education, New Paltz, and Thomas Benenati, guidance counselor, New Paltz High School, introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Feldman, a graduate social worker from Boston University, spoke about the principles of mental health for happier living.

Mrs. Feldman said that overwhelming problems should be discussed with parents, clergyman, doctor, guidance counselor or mature friend. The Ulster County Mental Health Center in Kingston is staffed with psychiatrists, psychologist and psychiatric social workers who are trained to handle serious problems.

The various mental health careers and educational requirements were discussed. There are many job opportunities with mentally ill, as well as mentally healthy persons.

Interested students may do basic research for their future by seeking part-time or summer jobs in hospitals, recreation camps, community playgrounds, or any capacity of working with people.

Some case histories were described by Mrs. Feldman to illustrate how troubled persons are helped, and the need for more trained personnel in the field of mental health.

A few students asked questions concerning the maladjustment of alcoholics, nervousness at exam times, and mental hospital facilities in this area.

The Ulster County Association for Mental Health at 27 East O'Reilly Street has free pamphlets available to the public on today's problems.

The next meeting of the association will be Tuesday 8 p. m., at George Washington School. Dr. Robert M. Goldenson, renowned psychologist will speak on Mental Health in the Family. The public may attend.

Sure, tea dust gives you hurry-up color (water works fast on those powdered tea particles). But tea dust just can't give you the great taste of tea (when tea leaves get broken down so fine, a lot of flavor gets rubbed away, too). It is the choice tea leaves that give Salada its taste. Ex-Street Boss Exposed

Bare Tire Sale Racket By Utica Indictments

Liese Boy, Hurt Sunday, Is Home

ROME, N.Y. (AP)—An alleged racket in tire sales to Utica was exposed Monday with the indictment of a former Utica street superintendent and four officers of two tire companies in that city.

Accused of first-degree grand larceny, bribery and fraud were: Joseph N. Bolletieri, the former superintendent; Rocco Spina, 59, president of Rock's Tire and Battery Inc., and Frank Laino, 47, a partner in Laino-Fisk Tire and Battery Service.

Accused of first-degree grand larceny and presenting fraudulent bills to the city were: Nicholas Spina, 57, a brother of Rocco Spina and vice president of Rock's, and Joseph Calicchio, 30, treasurer of Rock's.

Other Developments

A special grand jury probing vice and corruption in Utica and Oneida County returned the indictments.

In other developments related to the state investigation:

1. Laino filed a notice of appeal to the State Court of Appeals of his conviction of evading $386 in personal and business state income taxes in 1956-57. He was sentenced to nine months in jail but has been free in $2,500 bail, pending appeal.

2. Robert E. Fischer, special prosecutor, said municipal affairs in Rome would be investigated, at the invitation of Mayor Charles T. Lanigan. So far, the probe has concentrated primarily on Utica.

3. The 12th jury was selected in the State Supreme Court trial here of five suspended Utica policemen and a former Utica city official on charges of conspiracy and first-degree perjury. The trial began Jan. 16.

To Choose Alternates

Alternates were to be chosen to replace John S. Marsh said three instead of two alternates, the normal number, would be named because he expected the trial to last another month.

Monday's indictments accused Bolletieri of accepting $7,000 in bribes for designating Rock's as tire supplier for Utica, and of accepting $2,000 from Laino-Fisk.

Rocco Spina and Laino were charged with bribing Bolletieri.

The larceny count was filed against all five for allegedly causing the city to pay for tires that were not delivered, and the fraud count for allegedly submitting bills to the city.

The charges cover a period from January 1953 to December 1958.

A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of Bolletieri, who was not in state Supreme Court when the indictment was returned.

The others pleaded innocent and were freed in $10,000 bail each. Laino, because he already has posted $2,500 bail in the income-tax case, was required to put up only $7,500.

Says Youth Court

tails of the conference proposal. However, he said the plan would exclude the secrecy clauses newspapermen and others have opposed in the 1956 act.

What Act Requires

That act would require counties to set up special courts to handle criminal cases involving persons under 21. Names of offenders would be withheld from the public. Desmond also told the editors that delays in the trial of lawsuits was the "most immediate, conspicuous problem" facing courts. He referred particularly to suits involving accidents and cited delays of up to 60 months in Nassau County.

"The number of lawsuits has grown far out of proportion to the increase in population," the state's highest-ranking judge contended.

He said compulsory insurance and the mechanized age were among reasons for the large number of suits.

To relieve the situation, Desmond said 27 additional Supreme Court justices and five additional county court judges were needed. The newspaper society named George T. Crutchfield, assistant to the dean of the Syracuse University School of Journalism, its executive secretary. He succeeded Robert D. Murphy of the Syracuse journalism school, who resigned.

About 40 editors attended the meeting Monday and today.

Asks Study of Insitutions As Youth Crimes Increase

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Expressing concern over the lack of facilities for "the growing number of young criminals," a Queens Republican called today for a review of the state's detention and correctional institutions.

Assemblyman Anthony P. Savarese said there was "alarming evidence everywhere" that detention facilities were inadequate.

Savarese, in a resolution submitted to the Legislature, recommended the creation of a joint legislative committee to study the problem.

Other measures introduced in the Legislature would:

1. Modernize the traditional legal definition of insanity (Sen. Manfred Ohrenstein, D-Manhattan).

2. Allow New York City to lease to a baseball club a proposed $17.8 million stadium in Queens (Savarese). Legislative approval is needed before public park lands may be rented to a commercial enterprise.

Profit After Taxes, $168,180,880 IBM Earnings Per Share Was $9.18 During 1960

NEW YORK—Income and earnings for the year 1960 were reported by International Business Machines Corporation in its annual report released today.

As previously reported in a preliminary release, IBM's gross income in the U. S. for the year ended Dec. 31, 1960, was $1,436,063,085, an increase of $126,265,048 over the previous year. Net earnings after Federal taxes were $168,180,880, a $22,547,688 increase over 1959. Earnings per share were $9.18, based on the 18,310,954 shares outstanding at the end of the year. Earnings in 1959 were $7.97 per share on the 18,268,943 shares outstanding Dec. 31, 1959.

Report on Investments

IBM's total assets at the end of the year amounted to $1,535,365,918. During 1960, the company's increased volume of business and replacement of obsolete equipment required an investment of $339,955,042 in rental machines and parts, factory and office equipment, land and buildings.

The IBM World Trade Corporation, a wholly-owned subsidiary which carries on IBM's business outside the U.S., had a gross income of $372,273,076 in 1960, an increase of $75,374,547 over 1959. Net income was $8,809,514, an $8,607,411 increase over 1959. The IBM World Trade Corporation's financial results are not included with the parent company's except to the extent of cash dividends and interest received. During 1960, the IBM Corporation received $14,012,083 in cash dividends and interest from this source, an increase of $3,643,333 over 1959.

The governor took no position on the controversial issue of whether public colleges should charge tuition. He left the decision to the trustees of the State University and New York City's Board of Higher Education, which runs its municipal college system.

Endorses Expansion

Rockefeller endorsed plans of the State University trustees for expanding existing colleges of education into multi-purpose institutions and for expanding the community-college program.

The governor said his new budget, due tomorrow, would provide funds for construction of science buildings recommended by the trustees at eight colleges of education. He did not list them.

The governor said he would include $1.1 million in his new budget for higher operating expenses that would result under the anticipated expansion of community colleges.

The grant program he proposed, Rockefeller said, would apply to both public and private colleges. It is doubtful, however, that any public college that set tuition would put it at the $200 level.

Answers Critics

In practice, the grants would be given almost exclusively to private colleges.

In an apparent move to answer criticism that his plan had no academic standards, Rockefeller said that every student who gained admission to an institution of higher learning had "received initial recognition of his aptitude and academic standing."

The Regents' scholarships are keyed to both academic proficiency and financial need.

Newburgh ...

three Democratic governors, the authority had been "constituted on a bi-partisan basis," and only under Gov. Dewey "were all commissioners from the same political party." He hoped Gov. Rockefeller would "continue the statesmanlike policy of minority representation."

Still Thinks of State

Stillman said he advised Senator Keating last week "in my new position in the U. S. Department of Commerce, that I will do all I appropriately can to help New York State as we take steps to get the nation's economy moving again."

A lawyer, who had practiced in Newburgh, Stillman had held other governmental posts. He was named to the bridge authority in February, 1956 and was elected its chairman in 1957.

The authority is due to act today on a low bid of $5,239,360 submitted by the Frederick Sharr, Corp. of New York, and the Dravo Corp. of Pittsburgh, for construction of 12 piers of the Newburgh span. The two bid jointly last year for construction of three center piers.

To Build at Poughkeepsie

In 1961, IBM plans to begin construction on a 155,000 square foot product development laboratory at Poughkeepsie, a 150,000 square foot product development laboratory at San Jose, Calif., and a 250,000 square foot headquarters office building at Armonk, for the data systems and general products division.

At the year's end, IBM had 127,432 stockholders and 104,241 employees in its world-wide operations. Of these, 70,241 were domestic employees and 34,191 were abroad.

Why We Say--

STUFFED SHIRT

Savarese, in discussing his proposal for a study of correctional facilities, said "Gov. Rockefeller's program to curb youth crime is sound and constructive."

"But," he added, "another factor must be considered in our all-out fight against juvenile delinquency. We must have adequate accommodations to house offenders."

Ohrenstein said his measure would amend the law on criminal insanity to recognize an inability to control a compulsion.

"Every qualified authority has agreed for years that the present criterion of sanity is dangerously rigid and outmoded," he said.

Under the present, so-called McNaughton Rule, sanity is defined as the ability to distinguish between right and wrong, Ohrenstein said.

Boston Without Rapid Transit Buses; 'Out Sick'

BOSTON (AP)—An unauthorized strike of operating employees shut down rapid transit and bus service throughout this sixth-ranking metropolitan area today—the second such stoppage in five months.

Gov. John A. Volpe summoned Metropolitan Transit Authority General Manager Thomas J. McLernon and two officials of the strikers' union to a mid-morning conference at his office. Identical telegrams instructed them to come "prepared to effect a settlement and restore service forthwith."

No Downtown Parking

As thousands of automobiles poured into the city, Boston Traffic Commissioner Thomas J. Griffin banned all downtown parking of pleasure cars. His office explained the action was taken in anticipation of an increase in the normal daily traffic from 100,000 cars to about 250,000.

The strikers stayed away from their jobs with the excuse they were sick—an explanation repeated over and over in early morning telephone calls. But William W. Ward, one of the MTA board of trustees, asserted this was patently untrue.

"This is an outrageous act by the Carmen's Union," Ward said. "It's a full-blown strike definitely inspired by irresponsible leaders, not a legal strike, and it cannot be condoned as sick leave. It's an attempt to blackmail the public and smear the trustees and management."

Serves 690,000 Daily

The publicly owned Transit Authority serves 690,000 daily riders in 14 cities and towns.

In its absence, travelers used any method they could think of to get to work. Car pools were organized. Some riders switched to trains, often going far out of their way to make connections. Others, thumbing rides. In the city taxi drivers rarely have found business flourishing.

Mounting employee dissatisfaction over wages—plus the effect of a court decision Monday voiding what the employees had thought was their first contract since the end of 1959—triggered the absenteeism.

Last Aug. 22-23 a work stoppage ostensibly over the suspension of a single driver for refusal to work overtime—but in reality, as union officials conceded later, a protest against management's refusal to arbitrate the long pending contract for 24 hours.

The Boston Retail Trade Board estimated that strike cost merchants $6 million dollars, not counting losses suffered in other areas such as theaters and restaurants. This also took no account of widespread inconvenience.

In 1954, Mr. Peters was promoted to distribution superintendent in Poughkeepsie and he transferred to Kingston in 1958. He was named Central Hudson's Kingston resident manager on January 16 of this year.

In accepting the Red Cross post Mr. Peters said, "The local chapter is now preparing for the annual campaign which will be part of a nationwide volunteer effort during the month of March to secure funds to administer the numerous programs of the American Red Cross on local, national and international levels."

Mr. Peters is a past president of the Mid-Hudson Section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. He is a member of the Hurley Library board and is a Sunday school superintendent of the Hurley Church.

He is a past chairman of both the Community Chest and Red Cross campaigns in Hurley.

During World War II, Mr. Peters served as an ensign with the Naval Civil Engineers in the South Pacific.

Dorothy Thompson Dies

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Dorothy Thompson, famed newspaper columnist, author and lecturer, was found dead in her hotel room today. She was 66.

A maid discovered the body when she entered with breakfast for Miss Thompson, who suffered a heart attack here several weeks ago.

Miss Thompson, a newspaper columnist for 22 years, announced her retirement Aug. 19, 1958. Her decision to retire was based in part upon the death of her third husband, Maxim Kopf, a Czech painter. They had been married since 1943.

AMERICAN STAGE: The expression "stuffed shirt," for someone who imagines that he is more important than he actually is, was started in 1899 by American actress Fay Templeton. The epithet was thrown at another stage personality, John Gales, who was a great pretender at having wealth. It was rumored that Gales padded his shirts to aid his appearance.

Advice for Safe Investing

ROGER E. SPEAR

"I have a couple of stocks which worry me. They seem undependable for someone living on a pension and dividends. Both stocks — Rath Packing and Erie-Lackawanna R.R. are selling way below what I paid. What should I do about these stocks and how can I invest safely in the future?" — C. L.

A) There is no easy answer to the latter part of your question. Like almost every field of human endeavor, the real answer lies in enlarging your own knowledge. A young man should read all the financial news he can get his hands on, but this is not easy for an older person like yourself. I think you will have to rely — through some trusted friend or banking connection — on finding a good broker and putting your problems in his hands.

Establish clearly in your own mind and in the mind of your broker what your investment objectives are and never deviate from them. If, as seems probable in your case, your goal is steady dependable income with moderate growth, a good broker will probably put you into bank stocks, public utilities, food packaging stocks, merchandising shares or tobaccos. He would not, I feel sure, advise you to buy either of your present holdings.

Rath is a well-managed company in a fluctuating industry. The shares seem to be near the bottom of their present cycle and I would hold them for now — selling out on any large recovery. Erie-Lackawanna is a declining rail situation. I would get out of this stock and buy Iowa-Illinois Gas & Electric, yielding 4 1/2 per cent.

Q) "Please give me your opinion of Montgomery Ward as a growth stock. Should I buy it for this purpose?" — K. F.

A) There has been an almost uninterrupted decline in earnings from this stock since 1950. The dividend was recently cut in half. You can buy this issue as a speculation on slow recovery, although I don't advise it. For growth in the same field, buy Sears Roebuck, Spiegel or Aldens (all NYSE).

West Europe Press Gives Wide Acclaim to JFK Talk

By HAL COOPER

LONDON (AP)—President Kennedy's State of the Union message won wide acclaim in newspapers of Western Europe today.

It even received a kind of pat on the back in Moscow, where newspapers published up to a half page of excerpts, including Kennedy's outline of areas where U.S. and Soviet interests conflict.

Remarkable Excerpts

No Moscow paper gave any reaction or comment to the speech, but the range of excerpts they published were remarkable. As expected, they included in detail the President's views on the internal U.S. situation, the dollar problem, the recession and school shortages, as well as his appeal to the Soviet Union for scientific cooperation in outer space.

But they also included such items not normally found in Soviet papers as Kennedy's declaration that "we must never forget our hopes for the ultimate freedom and welfare of the eastern European peoples" and his declaration that neither the Soviet Union nor Communist China has yielded their ambitions for world domination.

AP Chief of Bureau Preston Grover cabled from Moscow that such statements were likely to provoke strong reaction in Soviet circles.

In general, the Western press expressed the view that the speech had cleared the international air and might serve to rouse the United States from a long sleep.

The London Daily Express headline — "Wake up, Americans!" — was typical.

Sees Some Head-Shaking

The independent Die Welt of Hamburg, West Germany commented: "The things Americans were told yesterday about their economy, the dollar, unemployment, and lack of scientific education will produce some grave head-shaking."

"But they will also be able to breathe with relief. Finally they were told how things stand. And since they are realists, they will shift into faster gear."

Rome's independent Il Tempo declared that "under the guidance of the most typical representative of the young generation, the United States has passed from defensive and passive resistance to the offensive."

In Paris, the leftist Combat described the speech as a rude awakening for Americans but said Kennedy's aim was to move the country into action "without panic and without fear."

Other comment: Some West Berlin newspapers were concerned over Kennedy's omission of any reference to continuing East-West tension in the former German capital city.

Britain's conservative Daily Mail compared Kennedy to Sir Winston Churchill because both, the newspaper said, were not afraid to tell the

Bake Two Hearts That Eat as One

NOVEL and appropriate for Valentine's Day: two heart-shaped cakes have been joined together in frosted bliss.

GAYNOR MADDOX

Play cupid in the kitchen. Join two heart-shaped cakes together and frost with loving care for Valentine's Day. Heart-shaped cakes are simple to bake in special pans of aluminum foil. Two pans, in Valentine red, come packaged together.

To make double cake: mix, bake in layers and cool, one white and one chocolate, re-using the foil pans for the second baking. Join the like layers with frosting. To unite these hearts, cut a curved segment from the roundest part of one heart, so that the same part of the other heart (but on the opposite side) will slide into it. Frost the cakes completely with feathery strokes, then outline each heart shape with a trail of frosting in a contrasting color.

Here's another idea for a Valentine's Day luncheon; delicately pink shrimp Creole on white rice:

Shrimp Creole
(Makes 4 servings)
4 tablespoons sweet (unsalted) margarine

2 medium onions, sliced
1 green pepper, sliced
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon oregano
1 No. 2 can solid pack tomatoes
1 small can tomato sauce
1 cup raw rice
1 pound raw shrimp, fresh or frozen or 8-ounce peeled and deveined shrimp, uncooked

Heat margarine in frying pan. Add onion and pepper rings and cook until tender. Sprinkle flour in pan, stirring until it is blended in. Add salt, pepper, oregano, tomatoes and tomato sauce. Cook over very low heat while you prepare rice and shrimp. Cook rice in boiling salted water until tender. While rice is cooking, clean and cook shrimp by boiling 2 to 5 minutes. Reserve enough shrimp to garnish 4 servings; chop remaining shrimp. Drain cooked rice and mold into balls with an ice cream scoop, measuring cup or tea cup. Unmound onto platter or chop plate. Keep hot in warm oven. Just before serving, add chopped shrimp to sauce, and spoon around mounds of rice. Garnish with whole shrimp.

Republican Club Hears Stang on Days of Lincoln

Frederick H. Stang, former mayor of the City of Kingston, compared the conditions facing Lincoln on his inauguration in 1861 and those facing Kennedy 100 years later, in a speech before the Woodstock Republican Club at Deane's in Woodstock.

An effective and well informed speaker on Republican party history, and particularly the administration of Abraham Lincoln, Stang gave an address that held the close attention and keen interest of a large audience. He was introduced by Joseph Fitzsimmons, county welfare officer, and chairman of the club's program committee.

Comparing the pre-inaugural conditions of the Lincoln and Kennedy administration, Stang pointed out that Lincoln was taking over the administration of a country on the brink of civil war and that his sole concern was to preserve the Union. On the date of his taking the oath of office, several southern states had already seceded. Stang also described Lincoln's humble beginnings in poverty and his lack of formal education. His great personal wisdom was inherent, although his education was self acquired.

"Lincoln's approach to his grave responsibilities," said Stang, "was that of a humble and dedicated man—a true servant of all of the people."

Another interesting comparison was the closeness of the popular vote. Of the total population of 4,680,089, Lincoln won only 1,866,452, or less than 40 per cent. Stephen Douglas, his Democratic opponent, polled 1,376,957. Two other candidates won 847,781 and 588,899 votes respectively. The Electoral College, however, gave Lincoln 173 out of a total of 296 votes, or more than 58 per cent. Thanks to the Electoral College system in effect in those days, America chose one of its greatest presidents, said Stang.

Honor Vern May

Vern L. May, the outgoing president of the club, was presented with a certificate of appreciation for his effective leadership of the club during the past year. The framed document was executed in full color by John Pike.

A motion was made and unanimously carried to telegraph Congressman J. Ernest Wharton and House Minority Leader, Charles A. Halleck, an expression of the club's strong opposition to the proposed packing of the House Rules Committee.

Thomas H. Dendy, newly-elected president of the Republican Club, announced the appointment of regional members of the Executive Committee. The new directors are: John Warner, Zena, Adele Longendyke, Woodstock village; Nelson, Shultis, Wittenberg and Kermit Schwarz, Woodstock.

Joseph Fitzsimmons was named chairman of the program committee.

Other committee appointments:

Legislative committee—Attorneys Abram F. Molyneux and Maurice Goldberg.

Fund Raising Committee—Anita Stallforth, chairman; Adele Longendyke, Andre Neher.

Publicity Committee—Benjamin L. Webster, chairman; Ingeborg Gran.

Political Campaign Committee—Walter Balk, chairman; David Carlson, Roger Cashdollar.

Selections to be read from "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include (485:14-17): "Emerge gently from matter into Spirit. Think not to thwart the spiritual ultimate of all things, but come naturally into Spirit through better health and morals and as the result of spiritual growth."

Vital P-TA Meeting Is Scheduled Thursday

One of the most crucial meetings in the history of the Woodstock P-TA is scheduled Thursday night at 8 o'clock at the Woodstock school.

The principal item on the agenda is: will the Woodstock P-TA continue as a vital voice in the educational community of the district. Or will the Woodstock P-TA fold its tent and silently steal away.

Newly elected president Jack Gibson urges a large attendance to discuss the vital question of the P-TA's future.

Plans to assemble a panel of former P-TA presidents failed to materialize for many reasons. Mrs. Raymond Gilkey of Kingston, district P-TA representative, will attend the meeting and give a short talk on the role of the P-TA and the urgent necessity to keep it alive.

Income Tax Does Color Our Thought, Actions

Ever stop to think what a big influence that yearly tax to Uncle Sam has on our way of thinking.

Well, it isn't unusual to hear a young married couple hope their first born arrives in time to be a tax deduction — instead of waiting until after the first of the year.

And there do seem to be an increasing number of marriages around Christmas time. As inconvenient as that time might be to the bride's mother, it means the happy couple can file a joint return.

Lots of people get entertained by business associates who wouldn't bother — if the entertainment weren't tax deductible.

And plenty of husbands drive the big car while their wives take the little economical "second" car — when the husband can charge part of his car as a business expense.

Wives have even been known to quit their jobs because their pay check boosted the family income into a higher tax bracket. And a man can always be cheered up when he has lost money in the stock market or made a bad loan by the reminder that he can take his losses off his income tax.

"After all it's tax deductible" has even become a better justification for spending money than "It was such a bargain I just couldn't resist it."

New Fight Looms Over Grave of Real Uncle Sam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another battle is shaping up between New York and Indiana over which state has the grave of the original Uncle Sam.

Each claims Uncle Sam — his real name was Sam Wilson — is buried within its boundaries, at Troy, N. Y., and at Merriam, Ind.

A bill to declare Sam Wilson's grave at Troy a national shrine passed the House in 1959 but died in the Senate Interior Committee when the rival claim was voiced by Rep. E. Ross Adair, R-Ind.

Rep. Leo O'Brien, D-N.Y., said he and Rep. Carleton J. King, R-N.Y., were drafting bills identical to the one passed by the House two years ago. They will be introduced probably next week, O'Brien said.

But Adair immediately served notice he would fight New York's claim and press his own. "We're trying to gather additional information now," he said.

Coast Academy Open to Negroes Who Are Qualified

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) — The U.S. Coast Guard Academy says its doors are open to any qualified Negro.

Rear Adm. Stephen H. Evans, the school's superintendent, said Monday night there was no requirement in its admissions regulations that would bar a Negro or any other qualified U.S. citizen.

Evans' comment was in response to a report Monday that President Kennedy was concerned that there were no Negroes in the academy's present class of cadets.

Kennedy noted absence of any Negroes among the Coast Guard contingent marching in the inaugural parade.

An informed source said the President was told there are no Negroes at the academy and only one Negro among the Coast Guard's 2,500 officers.

Kennedy reportedly directed academy officials to make certain qualified Negroes are considered for admission.

Evans said he had not received any directives from his superiors or from the White House.

The New Speaks, But the Old Lingers On

Many Similarities Noted in JFK's, Eisenhower's First Message in '53

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new speaks, but the old is with us. President Kennedy fired a lot of fish with his state of the Union Message to Congress. But in many ways it sounded like a record eight years old.

Kennedy gave a sense of action by promising it. But that's the last message of its kind this year in which he can simply promise action. From now on, in messages proposing specific programs, he must act.

Gives Gloomy Picture
He indicted President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration—without saying it in so many words—with his gloomy picture of the situation he inherited at home and abroad.

This somber outlook provides an air of urgency for what he will now have to ask Congress to approve. It's a good weapon to convince Congress is yet to be seen in describing domestic and foreign affairs in a dim light. The Kennedy administration thus puts itself in a position to take credit for any improvement.

This is just about what Eisenhower did when he took office eight years ago in describing the problems he inherited from the Truman administration.

Some in Strange Contrast
Some of Kennedy's words — "I speak today in an hour of national peril" and "the outcome is by no means certain" and "the present state of our economy is disturbing" — were in strange contrast with the almost sunny State of the Union Eisenhower saw in his message to Congress Jan. 12.

But more startling, in a way, are the similarities between the problems Kennedy saw in his first State of the Union message and the ones Eisenhower saw facing him in his first message to Congress on Feb. 2, 1953.

For Kennedy, intentionally or not, in effect was saying that his dilemmas now were dilemmas which Eisenhower said confronted him, promised to solve, but didn't.

Take the two men on foreign affairs: Eight years ago Eisenhower said, "This administration has begun the definition of a new positive foreign policy."

Comparing the Two Kennedy Monday: "We must re-examine and revise our whole arsenal of tools" in dealing with other nations. Eisenhower: "Our policy will be designed to foster the advent of practical unity in Western Europe."

Kennedy: "The unity of NATO has been weakened by economic rivalry and partially eroded by national interest."

Eight years ago Eisenhower said, "The policy we pursue will recognize the truth that no single country, even one so powerful as ours, can alone defend the liberty of all nations threatened by Communist aggression."

Kennedy: "No Atlantic power can meet on its own the mutual problems now facing us in defense, foreign aid, monetary reserves, and a host of other areas."

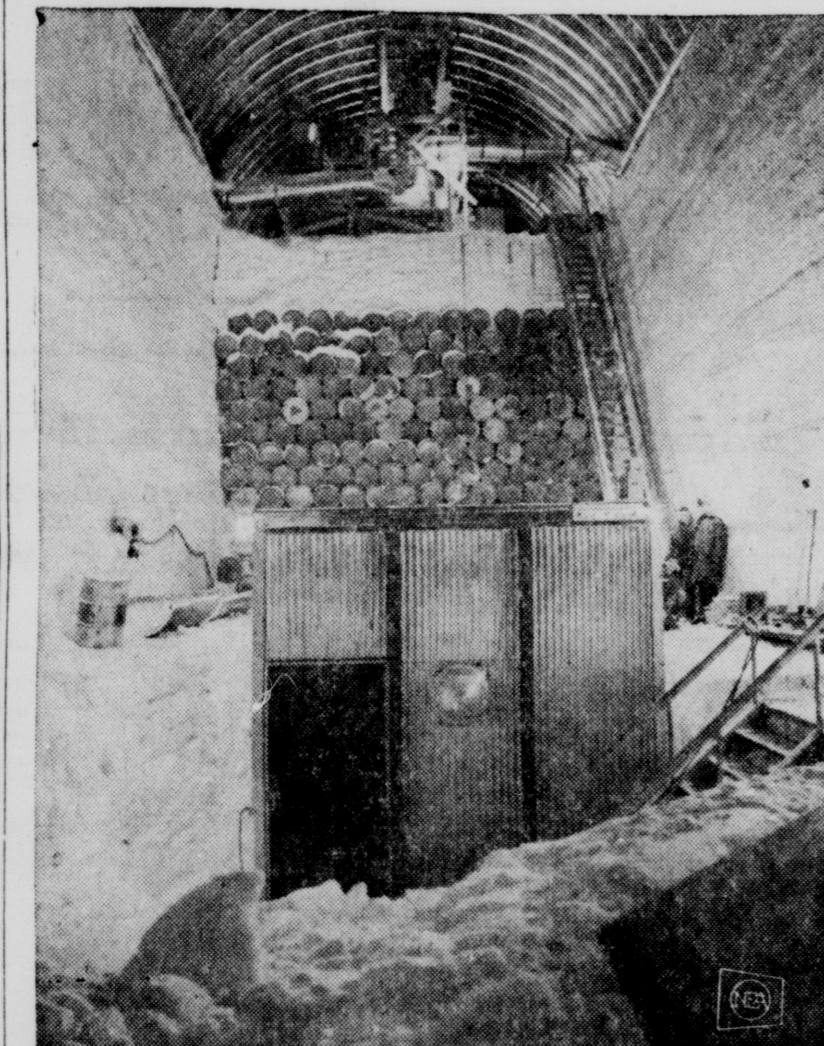

Take the two men on the military: Eight years ago Eisenhower said, "We must avoid waste and duplication in our armed services."

Funeral Today For Will Hill, Circus Performer

BAY ST. LOUIS, Miss. (AP)—Funeral services will be held today for Will H. Hill, 81, retired circus performer, who died here Sunday.

Hill, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., began his circus career as a tight-rope walker at the age of 12, and was credited with having been one of the first three men to walk a tight rope over Niagara Falls. He was also an animal trainer and had appeared on several television variety shows.

Survivors include his widow and a foster son, Francis M. Ireland, Chicago, Ill.

SCIENTIFIC SABBATICAL—Two Explorer Scouts, selected by Boy Scout officials after a series of tests, are spending the six-month winter at Camp Century, in the Greenland icecap. Camp Century is a little, self-contained city under the snow. It houses a nuclear reactor which will supply the electricity for the isolated base, 140 miles from civilization. Man-made tunnels 80 feet deep were dug to house the reactor which is shown here.

Kennedy said among other things that "faulty estimates and duplication (have all) made it difficult to assess accurately how adequate — or inadequate — our defenses really are."

Similar on Farming
And even on farming: Eight years ago Eisenhower said, "One of the difficult problems which face the new administration is that of the slow, irregular decline of farm prices."

Kennedy: "Since 1951 farm income has been squeezed down by 25 per cent."

There was nothing new in the various steps and remedies Kennedy said he will propose soon. He had talked of them before, promised them before. To a number of them there is tough opposition in Congress.

He'll have to be judged years from now not only on his leadership in foreign affairs but on his leadership in getting a conservative, often balky, Congress to make his promises a reality.

James E. Allen Directs Spending of Billions

Education Commissioner Is Own Boss, His Office Free of Politics

Editors: This is another in a series of profiles of persons prominent in the 1961 legislative session.

By MICHAEL KEATING
ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — New York State's education commissioner sees two great strengths in the New York education system—one, the commissioner is both an administrator and judge, secondly he is free of many of the usual political shackles.

These two aspects of the office held by James E. Allen Jr. give him a unique position in the state government.

A handsome, 49-year-old six-footer with an almost shy manner, Allen again this year is one of the most prominent figures in the deliberations of the state Legislature.

The state is about to embark on a program of aid that would embrace the total higher-education system, both public and private. In other years, the legislative concentration has been on the elementary and secondary public schools.

But whether they are colleges or kindergartens, education increasingly dominates the concern of New York officials.

Costs continue to rise, population continues to grow, the financial appeals from local educators grow more strident. At times, education appears as a monster gorging uncontrollably on the taxpayers.

Costs About $1.7 Billion

Public education in the state costs approximately $1.7 billion a year.

Allen, as chief executive officer of the Board of Regents, controls this behemoth with vast powers granted by the constitution.

Allen, a national authority on school finances who recently declined appointment as United States commissioner of education, directs the spending of billions with a touch reminiscent of the manner by which he once handled bouncing tennis balls. In his days as an undergraduate at Davis and Elkins College he was a nationally ranked tennis player.

Author of Books

Allen is author of "Financing of Higher Education," prepared for the president's commission on higher education and of "State School Fiscal Policy for New Jersey," which grew out of a survey conducted while he was studying at Princeton University.

Other preparation for the tough financial problems he now faces included statistical work for the West Virginia State Education Department and research at Harvard University where he earned both master of education and doctor of education degrees.

Makes Own Decisions

Allen is the judge of his own administration decisions, an unusual delegation of authority in a nation that stringently separates the executive, judicial and legislative functions of government.

Every now and again, the cry of "dictator" is raised from the grass roots.

"There is much misunderstanding about this," Allen said. "Although the law says my decisions are final, decisions actually can be reviewed."

Courts are not permitted to question the validity of the commissioner's decisions but can decide whether they are reasonable.

"In almost every case, the courts have upheld the commissioner," Allen said.

Nevertheless, the Assembly Monday night passed and sent to the Senate a bill that would open the commissioner's rulings to normal court review. The finality provision would be removed from the law.

Allows Quiet Settlements

The reason for this authority, Allen said, is to allow quiet settlement of education disputes. Court tests of the commissioner's rulings could take years.

"You would get into the situation where schools would be seriously delayed by some persons who just want to be difficult," he said.

He added:

"I believe any objective review of the law will find that this is one of the great strengths of the New York education system. I feel very strongly about this; that in the administration of my office, and particularly in this section (of the law), I must be very careful not to abuse this authority."

Another unusual aspect of the commissioner's office is that he is beyond the direct political reach of the governor. He is responsible to the Regents, who are elected by the Legislature.

"It's no secret that most strong governors don't like this setup," Allen said.

It makes it difficult for the governor to deal with the education commissioner because there is not that "closeness" that occurs when the governor appoints the man, Allen said.

Not That Close

"The great advantage is that the Regents and their executive officer can administer the affairs of education without regard to the political character of the governor or the Legislature," he said. But, Allen said, any commissioner who abuses this independence will lose in the long run.

"My success depends on my ability to work constructively with the governor and the Legislature."

Bills Go to Committee

Do the Regents and the commissioner lobby?

"Not in the usual sense. We submit all of our bills through the education committees of the Legislature. We send copies to all Democrats and Republicans and the governor. We've been careful about that. What they do with the bills after that is their business. We do our best to make known our needs to all persons at the same time."

Allen, who joined the state's educational system in 1947, has served as commissioner under two governors, Democrat Averell Harriman and Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller. Allen was appointed in 1953.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—CBS' abrupt cancellation of Circle Theatre's "The Spy Next Door," the fiction-based-on-fact drama originally scheduled for Wednesday night, may relate to an incident which took place almost two and one-half years ago.

On Sept. 25, 1953, CBS' Playhouse 90 presented a drama called "The Plot to Kill Stalin." In it, a character named Khrushchev was shown preventing an aide from giving the ailing Soviet premier medicine needed to save his life.

A few days later, Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov called a Washington news conference at which he announced he had lodged an official protest about the show and called the program "a filthy slander." He also said that he expected the U.S. government to take steps to prevent such "anti-Soviet" attacks.

The canceled Circle Theatre program written by Jerry Ross, was proclaimed to be frankly fiction, but based on cases of Soviet espionage uncovered in this country. With a modest improvement in the climate surrounding U.S.-Soviet relationships, evidenced by release of the RD47 fliers, it would not be surprising if CBS took the drastic step to avoid any possible diplomatic repercussions now.

However, the situation highlights another one of those insoluble headaches brought about by the very popularity of television: a fast-growing shortage of potential villains.

During the last war, motion pictures and radio (TV was not in the picture then) were able to go all out making our enemies, Germany and Japan, the black hats in their espionage and adventure stories, and nobody minded how dark they were painted. However, in the delicate cold-war situation, it apparently is unwise to point a dramatic finger directly at a real nation. Maybe the writers will have to call it Country X. And there's always Ruritania.

Recommended tonight: "Bobby Darin and His Friends," NBC, 9-10 EST — first special starring the young singer, with help from guest star Bob Hope; "The Square World of Jack Paar," NBC, 10-11 — one-man show by the comedian, assisted by some of his travel films.

4 Dairy Groups To Discuss Aid With Farm Boss

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of four New York dairy groups today ask Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman for aid they were unable to get from the Eisenhower administration.

A meeting between Freeman and the dairymen was scheduled for this afternoon.

Former Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson acted on Sept. 23 to prevent declines in producer prices of milk sold for fluid use in the New York-New Jersey marketing area during the last three months of last year.

He did this by suspending one provision of the milk marketing order which in effect permitted farmers about 20 cents more per hundredweight (46½ quarts) than they would have normally received.

This placed prices to producers at about the level for the last quarter of 1959.

The dairymen requested extension of the order for the first six months of this year and when that was refused by Benson they requested an extension for January only. That too was rejected.

One Agriculture Department source said the dairymen might seek not only increased producer prices for March — the February price has already been set—but also a long-range solution to their problem.

The price received by producers for fluid milk during January in the New York-New Jersey area was $5.62 per hundredweight or 23 cents less than they received in January, 1960. The February price will be $5.48 per hundredweight compared with $5.70 last February.

March producer prices for the area which includes Eastern and Central New York and Northern New Jersey will be announced by the department about Feb. 25.

The four dairy groups are the Dairymen's League Cooperation, Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative, Mutual Federation of Independent Cooperatives and the Metropolitan Cooperative Milk Producers bargaining agent.

Grain Mill Is Back After Striking A Day

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Pillsbury Company's waterfront grain mill was back in operation today after a temporary agreement ended a day-long wildcat strike by the mill's 300 production, maintenance and grain elevator workers.

A dispute over proposed changes in sweepers' assignments Monday brought several pickets, members of Grain Millers Local 26, to the plant before the morning shift. Workers refused to enter.

The local ordered its members back to work Monday night after an hour of talks with company officials. Further talks were scheduled for next week.

College Senior Is Accepted by Drama Group; On Tour

HOLLAND, Michigan—Robert Fisher, a Hope College senior from Rosendale, New York, has been notified of his acceptance as a member of the Bishop's Company American Repertoire Players, a touring religious drama company.

Upon the completion of his studies at Hope in June, Fisher will join the group at its headquarters in Santa Barbara, California, where intensive rehearsals will begin for the 51-week road trip beginning in the summer.

The company will tour all of the 50 states plus Canada and Mexico presenting six different productions. The majority of plays are presented in church auditoriums.

"I really feel fortunate in being accepted," said Fisher, "since most of the 20 members in the company are professionals."

Fisher has a long record of performances with the Hope College Palette and Masque drama club, of which he has served as president, which qualify him for his forthcoming position.

He has had roles in "The Crucible," "The Red Mill," "Scapin," "Anastasia," "The Red Shoes," "Peter Peter, Pumpkin Eater," "Murder in the Cathedral," and "Dust of the Road."

As a member of the Religious Drama Company he has played roles in "The Way of the Cross," "The Last Word," and presently "The Cathedral."

Fisher was an assistant director last month for "The Potting Shed," a Palette and Masque production, and will direct "The Curious Savage," another college production, this spring.

Last spring Fisher was given the "TOPP" award by the Century Club for his outstanding contribution to dramatics at Hope College. He also is a member of National Collegiate Players.

The Bishop's Company is the first American touring repertory company of its kind in the nation and is now on its eight national tour and fourth international tour. It seeks to reunite the forces of religion and the theatre.

Fisher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Fisher of 57 Main Street, Rosendale. He is an English major and eventually plans to attend either Theological Seminary or Boston University School of Divinity.

Music Lovers Enjoy 'Boheme' Performance Here; Favorite Arias Received Warmly

The familiar arias of "La Boheme" brought enthusiastic applause from a near capacity audience last night at the Community Theatre when a 10-member cast of the Boston Opera Company gave the favorite production.

Translated into English, the Opera Company gave a credible performance of the famous love story. The opera was the second in a series of concerts given by the Community Concerts Association.

Appearing in the leading roles were Lois Marshall as the tragic Mimì, Carol Lorraine as Musetta, William Beck in the role of Marcello and Robert Mouison, Rodolfo. Also singing with the group was Louis Sgarro and Robert Gregori.

A local touch was provided in the second act, Latin Quarter, with the appearance of Ulster County performers. They were Barry Levine, Katherine Brinnier, Allan Watrous, Harrison Cornish, Robert Hill, Christine Burr, Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand K. Burr. All appeared in the street scene in this portion of the opera.

While there will always be pros and cons about translating a popular opera into English, it does have its beneficial side, even though some of the words did get lost last night. Diction was excellent in most of the production, however.

It was announced that last night's performance marked the second anniversary of the production as given by the company originally in Boston. Last night's leads were the same as in the first performance.

Most everyone, without a doubt, enjoyed the performance and the singers are to be lauded for their singing and interpretation of roles.

After last night's appearance, Miss Marshall left for a singing engagement in Canada and the cast went on to Buffalo for another performance of "Boheme."

Community Concerts will present its final concert series on March 15 with the appearance of the famous duo-pianists Gold and Fildale.

Swallowing Broken Glass? Follow Easy Sore Throat Rules

If you don't have at least two common colds a year, probably with a sore throat thrown in, you're just not average. That's how the statisticians figure it.

And how those highly competitive microbes fight over us! One group will start a tidy little epidemic of, say, a sore throat with a secondary infection in the bronchial tubes. Three or four weeks later the news spreads that a rival army has taken over—this one starting in the throat, too, but winding up in the middle ear. Not long afterwards you're bound to hear that an absentee from the office or bridge club is down with "that sore throat and intestinal bug that's going around." There are many times, particularly in the winter, and early spring, when 30 per cent of a community's population may be stricken in various degrees with the current favorite virus infection.

Many of these infections start in the throat. But here's an optimistic note: medical reports indicate that in recent winters serious bacterial throat infections, such as streptococcus or pneumococcus—the types that are influenced by penicillin and the various sulfa and mycin drugs—have been on the wane.

This is nice to know, but there's one fly in the ointment: the most common sore throats today are caused by one or another type of virus infection and there still has been no antibiotic developed that's really effective against virus infections. A virus-infected throat, even if the doctor calls it mild, can make you feel as if you're swallowing broken glass.

There are several common-sense rules and tricks, however, which doctors recommend for treatment of sore throats:

1. If possible, go to bed and stay there until you feel better. If you're too busy, at least get all the rest you can and keep warm.

2. Keep children home from school. Just about every kind of sore throat is infectious — and you don't want all those mothers mad at you!

3. At the first sign of rawness, start a routine of gargling every hour.

4. If pain is bad, take an aspirin product as directed on the container.

5. Drink 8 or 9 glasses of fluid a day—fruit juices, tea, orange or lemonade, soup, gelatin desserts in liquid form.

6. Call a doctor immediately at any of the following signs:

a. If the throat is very red, it may mean bacterial infection or, possibly, a more serious illness such as rheumatic fever—especially in children.

b. If there are severe toxic symptoms such as high fever, excessive sleepiness, intense headache or pains in the joints. These, too, indicate that more serious illness may be on the way.

c. If your sore throat persists after three days with no sign of improvement.

But let's hope we'll all sail through the rest of this winter with a clean and shining bill of health!

POLLY'S QUIZ

By POLLY CRAMER

Decorating Ideas Pop Up In Most Unlikely Places

The germ of an idea for a decorative scheme can spring up in the most unlikely places. In a smart clothing store for men on the upper peninsula of Michigan, I saw several nondescript pieces of furniture painted a shiny black and further dressed up with important brass hardware. Upholstered pieces were covered with a beautiful Scottish wool plaid in red, green, dark gold, navy and black. This is a great idea for a pine-paneled family room or den. Or even for an informal living room with white plaster walls and barn red or bright navy woodwork. Braided rugs, gold felt curtains, corduroy cushions in red, green and navy would finish off the room nicely. Red geraniums in brass or copper containers would provide accents.

Dear Polly: My living room, with dining L, is painted pale lilac with plain matching drapes. An 18th century sofa is medium blue damask with small silvery flowers. Wall-to-wall carpet is nutria. I have one needlepoint chair with sort of beige background. A chair needs recovering. What color and material seem wise? Would rose be in order? — Styried.

Dear Styried: I suggest that you use blue-and-amesthy striped moire or heavy ribbed silk on the chair to get the best effect.

Dear Polly: I read your suggestion for framing collectors' items. I have old cards beautifully lithographed. They are different sizes and some date to the early 1880s. Can you suggest how I may use them? I would like them to be suitable either for living or dining room. I intended to sell them but since reading what you said, I want to use them myself.—Mrs. W. S. M.

Dear Mrs. W. S. M.: You are wise to use the card collection in your home where there is a personal connection. Remove them from the scrapbook as carefully as possible. Then take them to a professional framer. He can help you group them.

But don't put too many into one frame. Perhaps colored mats that tie in with your color scheme and narrow back frames look well.

Dear Polly: My living room rug is a medium green and my couch is a very dark gray. What colors would you suggest for walls, drapes and two new chairs to brighten up the room? Would pale green walls and off-white drapes be too drab?—Mrs. G. R. B.

Dear Mrs. G. R. B.: You might use green walls and white curtains. Or white walls, a delicate green ceiling and green draw curtains. For the two chairs, use a gay chintz with white ground, splashy deep red flowers, green leaves and some touches of yellow and gray. Add red, white and golden-yellow cushions to pep up your drab gray couch.

SIGN OF SPRING—During one of Ulster County's longest cold spells in history there was a sign of warmer weather, an apple tree bearing tiny leaves and fruit at the New York State Horticultural Society meeting held last week at Kingston Armory. Bert Rhinehart, (right) district manager in the Hudson Valley for Niagara Chemical, and a resident of New Paltz, shows a lonesome, over-anxious apple tree to fruit grower A. R. Mott Jr., of Ulster Park at Niagara's unique display at the trade show. The two trees displayed showed a sparse but very real scattering of blossoms, leaves, apples and swollen buds. Dug from a local orchard in late November, they were planted in large vats and kept in a greenhouse until show time.

Local Junior League Will Celebrate Parent Association Anniversary; First League 1901

Members of the Junior League of Kingston are joining in a nationwide celebration this year of the 60th anniversary of the founding of the first Junior League. Throughout 1961, they will also mark the 40th birthday of the parent Association of the Junior Leagues of America, Inc.

The first Junior League, founded in New York City in 1901 by Mary Harriman and Nathalie Henderson, set the pattern for the present wide-spread programs now undertaken by some 78,000 League members in 197 Junior Leagues throughout the United States (including Hawaii), Canada and Mexico. As Junior Leagues were formed in other cities it became evident that a guiding body was needed to unite the members and provide professional counseling services to them. Thus, in 1921, The Association of the Junior Leagues of America, Inc., was formed, with headquarters in New York City.

Today, the Junior Leagues undertake almost 103,000 volunteer jobs, for which they have been trained in the fields of health, welfare and recreation; education and civic affairs; the arts; radio and television; children's theatre and puppetry. They operate under the supervision of a 20 member volunteer board of directors.

The local Junior League which is itself 39 years old, began in 1922 and was admitted to the Association of Junior Leagues in that same year. It was started with a group of ten women under the leadership of Mrs. Charles Warren. This group had as their aim to provide trained volunteer services to the community.

With a current membership of 124, the Junior League of Kingston with Mrs. Robert A. MacKinnon as president has undertaken a variety of projects in this city, principally in the field of arts. Its best-known services include Children's Theatre, The Children's Room in the Kingston City Library, the new radio program "Adventure" and the loan closet.

Without losing benefits from social security?—Mrs. G. B.

A—You may earn $1,200 or less without losing benefits. If you earn more than $1,200, $1 of your benefits will be withheld for each $2 of your earnings above $1,200 and up to $1,500. For every $1 of earnings above $1,500, $1 of benefits will be withheld.

Q—I lost my wife nearly three years ago. Exactly two years and one week after her death I read in the paper that I was entitled to a death benefit. At the social security office they told me that if I had come one week earlier I could have had the money. Neither the doctor, the hospital nor the funeral director told me about this benefit. Is it still possible to collect?—R. M.

A—Unfortunately for you, the law states that, to collect, this death benefit, the person who pays the funeral expenses must report the death within a two-year period. Your experience shows how vital it is to keep up on what is available to you in the way of social security benefits.

Kennedy Wreath, 3 Others Placed On Grave of FDR

Approximately 50 persons witnessed the placing of four wreaths on the grave of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt honoring him on his birthday Monday.

President John F. Kennedy's wreath of artificial leaves in black and green was placed by Major General W. C. Westmoreland, superintendent of the United States Military Academy at West Point. He was accompanied by an honor guard of four cadet officers.

The second wreath was placed by Keith Miritello, this year's New March of Dimes Poster child, who walked on crutches to and from the grave. The March of Dimes wreath featured deep red roses, orchids and salmon gladioli.

Commander Arthur J. Mihans, of Lafayette Post, American Legion, Poughkeepsie, placed that organization's wreath of red, white and blue artificial flowers, and Arthur Smith, of the Roosevelt Home Club, placed that organization's wreath of red and white carnations.

The 10-minute ceremony concluded with a prayer by the Rev. Gordon L. Kidd, rector of St. James' Episcopal Church, Hyde Park.

During the ceremony, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt stood nearby with her son, John Roosevelt, and his daughter, Nina.

Foreign Policy and Economic Development Is Studied by League of Women Voters

A study of foreign policy and economic development was presented to members of the League of Women Voters of Kingston at a unit discussion meeting held January 24 in the home of Mrs. John Johnson, 10 Lipton Street.

A premise of the study is the realization that economic well-being and the means by which the 100 nations and one billion people demanding better standards of living shape political commitments. Members of the League's foreign policy resource committee, headed by Mrs. Johnson, have been studying problems and obstacles involved in formulating and carrying out an effective foreign economic policy.

One aspect involves balancing the imbalance of payments, that is, a situation arising from U. S. spending abroad outweighing funds derived from exports, dividends earned from investments overseas, and foreign investments in this country. The committee pointed out that the U. S. is "a country with a large and persistent surplus, is now a country with a large and persistent deficit."

Financing economic development abroad adequately and effectively is another aspect of economic policy. The idea of helping people to help themselves in a self-sustaining economic status has been expressed through many United Nations agencies: the World Bank, the International Monetary Fund, the World Health Organization, the Food and Agricultural Organization, the expanded technical assistance program and the UN Special Organization, the committee felt that these efforts have not been as effective as possible, that too little money has been spent and too late, and that goals must be defined more explicitly and capital assistance be substantially increased.

Promoting private U. S. investments in the developing countries is another aspect of foreign economic policy; the value of American holdings abroad rose from $12 billion in 1949 to $29 billion in 1959. An aim of the program is to raise the annual per capita income of the developing countries by 25 per cent during the 1960s.

American industry will share in the benefits derived from the economic growth of other lands.

Also to be considered is the use of U. S. farm surpluses to promote well-being and economic growth in the developing countries. The "Food for Peace" program represents the concept that only with adequate diets can the world's people make the type of progress that assures continued peace. The program allows a needy country to obtain farm products although it lacks the dollars to buy in the cash market; payments are made in the currency of the country.

Taking part in the League's presentation and leading discussion were Mrs. John Johnson, chairman; Mrs. Ellsworth Johnson, Mrs. Nelson Heyer, Mrs. Gifford Beal and Miss Marianne Davis.

The next meeting of the LWV of Kingston will be held Monday, Feb. 6, at 8:30 p. m. in the Central Hudson auditorium. Speaker will be Mrs. Jerome Slack, state League chairman of the court reorganization item. The meeting will be held jointly with the Woodstock LWV. All LWV meetings are open to those interested in attending.

ASK THE DESIGNER

By GAILE DUGAS

Dear Gaile: I've been following your column and find it interesting. Misery loves company, I guess, but it makes me feel better to know that other women have some of my clothes problems. The one that's bothering me right now is this business of wool knit dresses. I love them. I could live in them, in fact, they're so comfortable. And pretty. But let's face it, I'm on the plump side. And I've always heard that heavy women shouldn't wear knits. Don't get the wrong impression; I'm not one of those blubbery fatties. But I should lose about 15 pounds. Still, I'd like a couple of knit dresses this spring. Should I buy them?—Mrs. A. J. N.

Dear Mrs. A. J. N.: By all means, it's true that there once was a belief that plump women shouldn't wear knits. But that belief belongs to the days when knits didn't hold their shape.

Today, they do. I put your problem to Mrs. Helen Lazar, designer for Kimberly, a New York knitwear house. She says: "We make our knit fashions in sizes up to 20. We think that large women can wear them very well. And we sell as many size 20s as we do size 8s. Quality counts in knit fashions. A good wool knit keeps its shape after many wearings and dry cleans beautifully. It really doesn't need a skirt lining."

Dear Gaile: Can you tell me why my clothes look so different after five years? I try to buy carefully and I pick good things. I'd like to feel that they will last me for years. I'd rather have a smaller wardrobe made up of really good clothes. But at the end of four or five years, even my favorites look odd to me. Why is this?—Mrs. H. M. C.

Dear Mrs. H. M. C.: This is only natural. Assuming that you take care of your clothes and have hems adjusted as needed, they haven't changed. But YOU HAVE. Your eye has become accustomed to fashion changes and your favorites no longer look the same. I talked this over with a New York designer, Seymour Jacobson. This is what he says: "Well, actually, good taste is very nearly timeless. But individuality is a great factor, too."

SECRET PARTNERS—One brave and two shy winners show their cheques in London. They were equal sharers in the $420,000 English soccer pool prize. BRIDGE Overbid Traps Unwary Player

By OSWALD JACOBY

One of the most interesting chapters in the Fry book discusses ways and means to lose with any partner. In other words, he points out habits to avoid and one of the worst habits is the trap bid.

South's four spade bid is a perfect example of the trap bid. South had a sound overall of East's opening heart bid. West bid two hearts; North two spades; and East three hearts.

At this point South decided to pass. Perhaps his reason was he did not want to push the opponents into four hearts; perhaps he forgot that it was his turn to bid. Anyway, he passed and so did West.

Now North decided to go to three spades. He felt that his three spade call would close the bidding. No one would double; no one would bid four hearts; his partner would either go down one or make the contract.

North's reasoning was perfect. As you can see East and West can make exactly three hearts and North and South exactly three spades. But, unfortunately for North, South was there to spring the trap. South bid four spades.

Nothing very bad happened. South went down one trick instead of making a nice part score, but the point is that North had been helpless. He had to lose no matter what he did.

Hollywood News, Views

AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Things seem to be looking up in the movie business. Studio streets are busy. Sales executives are getting chipper again.

But the indications of prosperity are not merely in these intangible signs. You can also see it in the hard facts as reported in the trade press:

MGM stepping up production to a 13-year high, earnings highest in 12 years. . . . 20th-Fox ahead of 1960 in top grossers. . . . Paramount invests $21.4 million in nine pictures now shooting, $30 million in films in preparation. . . . Hollywood payrolls up from $149 to $153 average over previous year. . . . Universal-International takes biggest stock jump in 1960. Hollywood studio shortage looms.

Says 170 Films Planned
Producer chief Eric Johnston has cited a "pervasive optimism" in the film business. He predicted 170 films to be made here in 1961 vs. 120 in strike-torn 1960.

Perhaps the most authoritative sign comes from the U.S. Department of Commerce. It estimated American box office receipts for 1960 at $1.37 billion, 7.5 per cent better than 1959. And the department estimated that 1961 receipts will be even higher.

The box offices have been clicking nicely in the first month of 1961. Even the high-cost epics "Spartacus" and "The Alamo," which the creaky handers said would be heavy losses, appear to be prospering.

Depends on Attractions
Why is business better? I asked 20th-Fox production boss Bob Goldstein, whose studio is humming with its biggest activity in years.

"There's a new attitude in Hollywood," he said. "We have found out that we can get the people out of their homes — if we give them enough incentive. It's entirely up to us now. If we give them enough good attractions, we'll do business."

"We're competing in the open market for the entertainment dollar. Television is a big competitor. It was great for the man who works all day and likes nothing better than to take off his shoes and sit in front of the TV set."

Biggest Lift in Years
"But there's his wife to consider. She has been home all day and wants to get out. If we can give her enough ammunition to get her husband out of the easy chair, they'll go to the theater. Apparently we're doing just that."

Goldstein speculated that many Americans have grown disenchanted with the sameness of TV and are seeking more varied entertainment in theaters. Whatever the reason, Hollywood is enjoying a lift in morale that it hasn't known in years.

Checks
It has been estimated that Americans now write more than a billion checks every month. The 1960 estimate is 13 billion checks, with a cash total of more than two trillions of dollars.

KHS Plays at Monticello Tonight; Other Top Tilts Slated

MIKE HITS THE DECK—While Middletown guard Dom Roselli (5) hangs on to the basketball, Mike Ferraro (24) of Kingston High loses his balance in the second quarter of game Friday night at the Kate Walton Field House. Ron Smith (21) of Middletown and Kingston's John Duffner (10) move into the play. The locals romped in the DUSO engagement, 76-44, and will be at Monticello for a conference battle tonight. (Freeman photo).

Ohio State, Team of Stars, Poses Dilemma for Rivals

College basketball coaches usually can come up with ways and means of stopping one big star, but what are you going to do about a whole team of them?

That's the dilemma faced by Ohio State's rivals. Chances are they could devise a defense to stop tall Jerry Lucas, just as Minnesota stalled Indiana's big Walt Bellamy Monday night. But that still would leave four teammates, plus some subs, to be accounted for.

While Indiana, Kentucky and Louisville, all highly regarded teams, were going down, Lucas and his Buckeye teammates went rocking along to their 15th victory of the season and their 20th straight over a two-year span. Wisconsin was the victim, 100-68.

The measure of Ohio State's all-around skill was reflected in a 50.7 per cent shooting average for the team—39 field goals on 77 attempts. Lucas made 19 points, Larry Siegfried 18, John Havlicek 15 and Mel Nowell 14. Even when Ohio Coach Fred Taylor benched his regulars late in the first half and again with nine minutes to go in the second Wisconsin could not gain.

Jerry's 1960 Olympic teammate, Bellamy, didn't get the same kind of help as Minnesota, trailing 37-33 at half time, produced a collapsing defense in the second half and won out 65-58. Bellamy did a great rebounding job, but the Hoosiers couldn't get the ball to him often enough on offense and he scored only 15 points.

Illinois, a Big Ten team that follows the theory of trying to out-run and outshoot the opposition, chalked up its second conference victory 93-92 over Michigan State on Bill Small's basket with 21 seconds to go.

Louisville Upset

Miami of Florida checked Louisville, ranked seventh nationally in the current poll, 71-69 in a thriller, coming from nine points behind to win on Bruce Aplegate's last-minute shot. Georgia Tech upset Kentucky 62-60 and Kansas State gained a tie with Kansas for the Big Eight Conference lead with a 72-70 decision over Iowa State.

Georgia Tech's Roger Kaiser put on a tremendous one-man show as he led the Engineers to their first conference victory and virtually wrecked Kentucky's hope of winning the SEC title. Held to one field goal in the first half, Kaiser scored 18 points in the second half and capped the tilt-max with a leaping one-hand shot for the winning basket.

Kansas State, ranked No. 10 nationally, also gained a last-gasp decision, winning on Al Peithman's 25-foot jump shot with 26 seconds to go. The only other top ten team in action Monday night, St. John's (NY) had to come from far back early in the game but gained an 84-75 decision over Creighton without too much difficulty.

In other major conference games, Florida won its fifth straight in the Southeastern—a record for the school—by beating Alabama 52-50; West Virginia

Maris Signs for $33,000, Has No Alibi for Slump

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The case of Roger Maris is a puzzle. He hits 39 homers, drives in 112 runs, wins the Most Valuable Player award and what happens? Everybody asks, "Why did you slump?"

Maris was questioned about his second-half slump Monday when he signed his contract with the New York Yankees for an estimated $33,000 salary. The guesses were that he got $21,000 last year.

"Estimated," you ask? Right. This is the informed guess of the baseball writers. Nobody will know the official figures except Maris, the Yanks—and the Internal Revenue Service next year.

Maybe Roger will tell the Mrs. He wouldn't even hint to the writers. "If anybody asks me how much I'm going to get, they won't find out," he said at the opening of the news conference.

Now, about the slump. Despite the homers, RBI and the MVP award, the figures do not lie. On July 20, Maris had hit 31 home runs in 83 games. At the end of the season he had hit only eight more in 53 games.

Maris had no alibi although he could have pointed to the rib injury that kept him out of the lineup from Aug. 14 to 31, except for a pinch-hitting appearance. In 1959 an appendectomy put him on the shelf and resulted in another tailspin at Kansas City.

"I've got my own theory," he said and then clammed up, except to add that "when a hitter goes sour there is not much he can do."

Monticello does not possess a great deal of height but the squad is scrappy and is always rough at home. The Monticello have scored wins over Middletown and Liberty and have lost in the circuit to Poughkeepsie, Port Jervis and Newburgh.

Incidentally, only 500 persons will be admitted into the gym to view the contest. After the gym is filled, the others will be permitted to watch the game via closed circuit television, shown in the auditorium.

Last year's meeting with the locals was marked by a riot, which was intensified because of an overflow crowd of more than 700 which watched the game. Monticello officials are making sure that doesn't happen again.

The Port Jervis-Liberty contest doesn't mean too much in the city conference but these teams are battling for the village title. Both have had disappointing seasons to date.

Ontario and Rondout have a crucial match in the Ulster County league. With five clubs knotted for the top spot, the race will probably go right down to the last week.

Must Stop Bartsch
The Indians have suffered two losses to Marlboro and Rondout have lost league decisions to Walkkill and New Paltz. The Ganders have to put the clamps on high scoring Dick Bartsch if they are to be successful.

Bartsch has been sizzling in recent starts. This contest was originally scheduled for Jan. 20 and had to be postponed because of the blizzard. It promises to be a close one.

New Paltz beat Pawling, 44-42, in a non-league game and will have trouble repeating the win at the Dutchess County gym. Saugerties will attempt for its 11th straight this afternoon against a hot-and-cold Catskill outfit.

Arlington is a solid favorite over Cardinal Farley and Newburgh shouldn't have too much trouble with Beacon. Highland, which is still winless, entertains Roosevelt Central tomorrow and should take it on the chin once again.

Joe Uhl Needs Nine Points for New Scoring Mark

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

The all-time Kingston High school scoring record is expected to fall tonight as the Maroon squad of Coach John Gilligan invades the Monticello gym for a DUSO league engagement with the pesky Panthers.

A full scholastic schedule is on top today and this evening as the cagers start the second half of their schedule in earnest.

Port Jervis is at Liberty in the other DUSO tilt on the slate. In the UCAI, Ontario plays at Rondout Valley and in the DCSL Cardinal Farley is at Arlington. Non-league games will find New Paltz at Pawling, Saugerties entertaining Catskill in a matinee attraction and Beacon at Newburgh.

Most of the attention will be focused on the KHS-Monticello contest. Not only is it a pivotal one in the league, but Joe Uhl should emerge from the game as the new point champion at the school.

The Record Should Go
Uhl has a career total of 1,058 points and needs only nine to break the 1,066 mark, set by Palmer "Skip" Brodhead several seasons ago. Chances are good that Uhl will get the needed points because he has never been held to less than double figures in his high school career.

As for the game itself, the home side will present the second best scorer in the league this season. He's Steve Schuler, a 6-1 jump shot artist. Schuler has 122 markers in five games for an average of 24.2 a start. He always seems to have hot hands at home and the locals will have to stop him to come back home with a decision.

Mike Magee, a seasonal backcourt performer, is also dangerous for Bucky Roche's club. Magee played varsity ball last year and he sets up many of Schuler's points.

Chamberlain managed to pick up one point to 485 in continuing to pace the field goal percentage leaders, while Jack Twyman of Cincinnati continues in 2nd place at his 482 figure.

Dolph Schayes of Syracuse and Clyde Lovellette once again exchanged positions in the free throw column with Schayes hitting 461 out of 533 for .865 to .858 for the St. Louis Hawk veteran.

Chamberlain leads the rebounders with 27.7 average per game, while Oscar Robertson holds on to his assist lead with 465 despite the fact that he was only able to participate in one game for a limited time during this past week. Guy Rodgers of Philadelphia moved ahead of Bob Cousy of Boston for the runner-up spot.

Dolph Schayes of Syracuse connected for his 17,000th point on Jan. 22 against Cincinnati.

The Stilt's Lead at 115

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, Philadelphia's prolific point-maker, has ballooned his lead over runner-up Elgin Baylor to 115 points in the National Basketball Association scoring race.

The Warriors' tall star has scored 1,926 points in 52 games, according to league statistics released today, and is averaging 37.0 points a game. Baylor has tallied 1,811 for a 34.8 mark.

Injured Oscar Robertson holds third place with 1,499 points and a 30.0 average, but teammate Jack Twyman, in fourth place, is closing fast with 1,481 and a 25.5 average.

At his present pace, Chamberlain figures to break his own all-time, full season record of 2707. In addition, he and teammate Paul Arizin, are slated to set a new scoring tandem record by the end of next month.

Chamberlain's junior partner now in 9th place has chipped in with 1188 points. Their combined output of 3114 figures to break their all-time combo mark of 4313 set during the 1959-60 season. In order to surpass their record, they need a scoring average of 44.5 the rest of the way. They are currently averaging 59.8 points per game.

Chamberlain managed to pick up one point to 485 in continuing to pace the field goal percentage leaders, while Jack Twyman of Cincinnati continues in 2nd place at his 482 figure.

Dolph Schayes of Syracuse and Clyde Lovellette once again exchanged positions in the free throw column with Schayes hitting 461 out of 533 for .865 to .858 for the St. Louis Hawk veteran.

Belleayre Plans New Facilities For the Skiers

Conservation Commissioner Harold G. Wilms today announced plans to construct a new ski development for novices at the state-owned Belleayre Mountain Ski Center located between Pine Hill and Highmount in Ulster County. The Department will advertise for bids on February 1st and 3rd.

The work to be done by contract will consist of construction of a new base lodge, additional parking areas and double chair lift, while Conservation Department personnel will develop the new ski trails. The project is scheduled for completion not later than December 1st of this year so that the facility is expected to be open to the public during the 1961-62 skiing season, Wilms said.

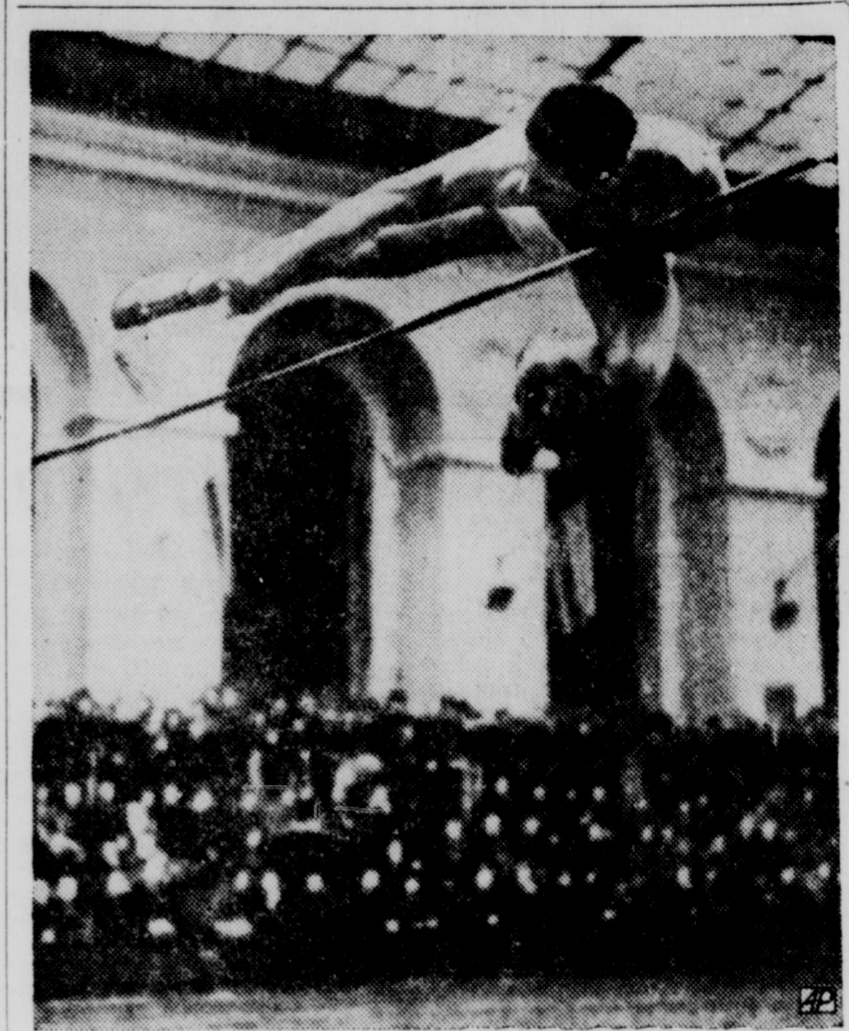

Sealed proposals will be received at the central office of the New York State Conservation Department, State Campus Site, Albany, until 1:00 p. m. (EST) March 1st, when the bids will be opened.

Supervised by the Bureau of Camps and Trails, the Belleayre Ski Center was first opened to the public in 1950 and has expanded continually since then until it is double the original size. In addition to the 2950-foot chair lift now in operation, Belleayre facilities include two T-bar tows, two rope tows, fifteen trails for experienced skiers, cafeteria and ski school.

Rhinebeck led 23-19 at half-time and appeared on its way to a second straight upset win, but the Dutchess cagers ran out of gas after the intermission. The losers were also hampered by an injury to their high scoring ace, Ron Miller, who missed most of the action because of an eye injury sustained in a collision with Ben Davis. Joe Klonowski was missing from the Raider lineup.

Only two players were in double figures—Chick Boice with 15 for the Raiders and Don Conn with 11 for Rhinebeck.

Trailing 35-21 at the three-quarter mark, Casablanca made a spectacular rally to tie the score at 44-44 on Bill Lacombe's duce at the 6-second mark. A few seconds later Al Short beat the buzzer with a sensational 40-foot set shot that cinched the Hub victory.

Lacombe was individual scoring leader with 20 points. Chick Ferraro (14) and Short (12) led the Hub, with Ed Miller potting 11 for the losers.

Kayo Could Make Ingo Better Fighter, Patterson Claims at His Training Camp

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

SPRING VALLEY, N. Y. — (NEA) — Floyd Patterson has softness of speech and mien that cuts across the brutality of his profession.

There is sensitivity when the heavyweight champion talks about fighting. Just now he was talking about dreams. "Every night," he said, "for almost a year after Ingemar Johansson knocked me out, I would have this dream... myself in the ring and his left flicking in my face. I couldn't get away from it, though I made all the right moves, trying to get my left hand in. I would see his right hand coming. Plain as day. But always I would wake up before it landed. It was disturbing, because I never knew the result."

Reliving the nightmare of losing his title to the rollicking Swede two summers ago was Floyd's way of illustrating the mental burden that must now weigh down Johansson, who was knocked out in the second fight.

"I was too ashamed at first to look at the films," he recalled. "I already knew what happened. After a while, I got built up in my mind to where I thought I must have been knocked down 30 to 40 times."

WHEN DID THE DREAMS STOP?
After I saw the films the first time, I didn't feel I was outclassed. When I'm beaten, I feel I have a chance, that when he does something, I have a move to counter it. For a year I wasn't sure I could beat him no matter what I did. I can guarantee it now.

Major Bowling Setup Could Make Game Real Big League

By BILL McCORMICK
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — With the formation of a baseball type circuit, bowling, which has been inching up to big league status since the introduction of automatic pinsetting devices 10 years ago—is putting its best foot forward in the final step toward major sports standing.

If the National Bowling League is successful, America's fastest growing participation sport will become the peer of professional football, basketball and hockey, even baseball.

The league, now fairly well organized, has signed some of the nation's top bowlers—and is dickering with others—for a six-month, 121-game season scheduled to get under way next October.

"Networks are bidding for television rights," said Commissioner Dick Charles, a former TV sales executive and sports announcer, speaking from the league's headquarters in Dallas, Tex.

The cities in which franchises have been granted are Detroit, Omaha, Dallas, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Fresno, Birmingham, Miami and New York.

The most noteworthy leggers signed so far are Ed Lubanski, Steve Nagy and Buzz Fazio. Lubanski, committed to Detroit, has won two World's Invitational and rolled two consecutive

ED LUBANSKI

300 games in an exhibition on TV last summer. Nagy, the Hungarian Hotshot, will bowl with Los Angeles. Fazio, the oldest and a grandfather, will be with Omaha.

Salaries Are Good

On the reserve lists are Dick

Weber for Minneapolis-St. Paul; Billy Welu, Dallas; Bill Lillard, Fort Worth; Tom Hennessy, San Antonio; Lee Jougard, New York; Billy Golembewski, Miami; Ned Day and Buddy Bomar, Fresno.

The bowling professionals will receive straight salaries, ranging from $6,000 to $25,000.

Competition will be between five-man teams, scoring on a point system. A World Series will be rolled as a climax to the season, ending in April.

Admission prices will vary from $1.10 in some cities to $4.40 in others. Charter holders are obligated to stage matches in an establishment that can seat 1,500 spectators.

New York franchise owners had expected to use lanes to be installed in Grand Central Terminal, but a zoning permit was denied.

Opinion on whether the league will succeed is divided. Because the franchise holders are responsible business men for the most part, and have been required to post large sums as guarantees, practically all agree the project will get off the ground.

But many feel the circuit will have heavy sledding.

Those who doubt the undertaking will flourish believe bowling is strictly a participation sport.

They question whether television will watch the steady two hours of rolling necessary to complete a team match.

Lakers Winning Streak Hits Four

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Lakers, riding a four-game winning streak in the National Basketball Association, have their sights set on second place in the Western Division.

The Lakers edged Detroit 117-116 Monday night to move to within 1 1/2 games of the runner-up Pistons. In the night's only other action, the Cincinnati Royals kept pace with Los Angeles by whipping the Boston Celtics 116-88. The Royals, fourth in the West, remained 1 1/2 games behind the Lakers.

Los Angeles pulled out the verdict in the fourth period after squandering an 18-point lead. The Pistons, trailing at halftime 63-52, scored 13 straight points at the outset of the third quarter to take a 65-63 lead.

Elgin Baylor of the winners headed the scoring parade with 28 points and five other Lakers' players garnered 15 or more.

Jack Twyman clicked for 41 points and rookie Oscar Robertson, who was recovering from a hip injury, added 32 in Cincinnati's 43-24 rout of the Eastern Division pace-setters.

Pittsburgh Pirates Named Team of Year, Eagles 2nd

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "Anytime a person is connected with a baseball club so highly recognized it is a truly great honor."

Manager Danny Murtaugh made that comment Monday night upon learning his Pittsburgh Pirates had been named the Team of the Year for 1960 by sports writers and broadcasters participating in the annual Associated Press year-end poll.

The Pirates, who won the National League pennant and then defeated the New York Yankees in the World Series, received 289 points in the voting. The Philadelphia Eagles, National Football League champions, placed second with 130 points. The U.S. Olympic hockey team was third with 91 points.

Murtaugh, the National League

Manager of the Year, said he was thrilled at the Pirates' latest honor and added: "If I had voted, I would have had to cast my ballot for the Pirates, also."

Murtaugh said the reason for his vote would have been the late-inning rallies the Pirates staged to win many games which established them as a "truly remarkable ball club."

The smiling Irishman, who lives in Chester, Pa., near Philadelphia, said he was happy about the Eagles finishing second and also noted their come-from-behind finishes during the past season.

"I'm an Eagle fan," Murtaugh said. "It is amazing how the Eagles were so football what we were to baseball. It is quite an honor for Pennsylvania to be represented by two teams such as the Eagles and the Pirates."

Glenierie Club Bridge Results

Mr. and Mrs. A. Crisafulli of Boiceville posted an excellent 68 per cent game to win honors on the North-South side of the Glenierie Bridge Club's monthly Master point tournament. Twenty-one boards were played in an 8-table Mitchell movement.

Tied with 61 per cent for honors on the East-West side were the teams of Milton Daskel, Kerhonsen, and I. H. Wheatcroft, Kingston, and John Chapman and Earl Yohnell of Poughkeepsie.

Runnersup on the North-South side were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weinstein, Accord, 63 per cent; Dr. Habbec Maroon and Dr. John Olivet, Kingston, 52 per cent. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brooks of Hyde Park placed third with 57 per cent on the East-West side.

The regular Tuesday bridge tournament will be held on Tuesday nights hereafter at the new Kingston Stuyvesant Hotel. The first game, a monthly Master point tournament, is scheduled tonight at 8 p. m.

Sangaline Runs 42 Balls; Beats Mike Carpino, 125-72

Charlie Sangaline opened the annual city pocket billiard championship tournament with a nifty run of 42 balls last night at the Uptown Billiard Parlor.

Sangaline's opening thrust was too much for Mike Carpino Jr., who succumbed 125 to 72, as Bob East's ivory sweepstakes got under way.

Carpino pocketed clusters of 14 and 15 and made a respectable showing, considering Sangaline's sensational start.

In tonight's match at 7 p. m., Pete Wolff meets Billy Costello.

Jack Delavan and Don Bowra Post 443 Scores in Archery

Jack Delavan and Don Bowra tied with identical high scores of 443 in the Kingston Archery Club's January tournament, Delavan winning the 325 class and Bowra taking first in the 400 class.

The cold weather brought out more indoor archers for the first time. Camera men were also on hand to record the action. A new tournament will start in February. Other scores posted in the January tournament were:

175 Class — Ron Bahorik 248, Roy Albright 255; 100 Class, Tom Bruck 143, Gus Stopski 137.

(Women's Division)
Jennie Delavan 124; Intermediate Boys, Gordon Mattice 159; Intermediate Boys (sight), Bussy Pinkham 303; Intermediate Girls, Michele Bowra, 368; Junior Boys (sight), Day Pinkham, 251.

Geoffrion's Lead in Hockey Points Cut to Three

MONTREAL (AP) — Toronto's Frank Mahovlich has whittled Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion's once-commanding lead atop the National Hockey League scoring race to three points.

The 23-year-old left-winger collected five points—three of them goals—in four games last week to jump to second place from fourth a week ago, according to official league statistics released today.

He has a league leading 40 goals—in 50 games—and 19 assists for 59 points.

Geoffrion has been forced to miss the Montreal Canadiens' last six games because of an injured knee but still leads the race with 62 points on 27 goals and 35 assists.

Spaak Resigns Job With NATO

PARIS (AP)—Paul-Henri Spaak today submitted his resignation as NATO secretary-general to return to Belgium and lead his Socialist party in the next national election.

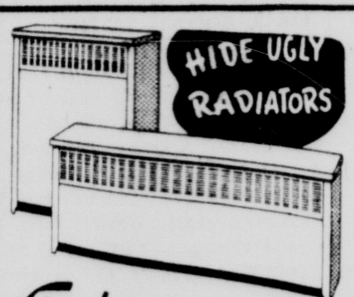

The 62-year-old Belgian leader had been secretary-general since 1957, when he succeeded Lord Ismay of Britain. He said he hoped to leave his post at the beginning of March.

He had been under Socialist pressure to return home following the month-long strike in Belgium which his party led and which left it squabbling and badly split.

Spaak, who headed Belgium's first Socialist government in 1938, was generally regarded as the party's best hope of patching up Socialist differences before the elections, which may come as soon as April. The Socialists are now the No. 2 party in Belgium, with 84 seats in the House of Representatives to the ruling Catholic party's 104 members. If the Socialists were victorious, Spaak would become premier.

KOOLVENT
AWNING SALES CO.
Kingston, New York

NEW YORK (AP)—A new Manhattan borough president is to be selected today in what shapes up as a prestige battle between Mayor Robert F. Wagner and Tammany Hall leader Carmine G. DeSapio.

Mayor Favors Dudley

Wagner Monday night endorsed Domestic Relations Court Justice Edward R. Dudley as his choice to succeed Hulan E. Jack in the $25,000-a-year job.

Jack, a Negro, automatically lost the job when he was given a one year suspended sentence on conviction recently on a conflict-of-interest charge.

He had been accused of accepting a $4,400 remodeling job on his apartment from a real estate operator doing business with the city.

DeSapio, a Democratic national committeeman in addition to heading Tammany Hall, the Manhattan Democratic organization, reportedly had nailed down votes of enough of the six Manhattan members of the City Council last week to elect Lloyd E. Dickens of Harlem.

But Wagner, who has split with DeSapio over control of the Democratic Party here, postponed until today an election which had been scheduled for last Friday.

Both Negroes

Both Dudley and Dickens are Negroes. The borough presidency is the highest ranking municipal post ever held by a man of that race.

Dickens had moved to the forefront last week after a ruling by Corporation Counsel Charles H. Tenney that Earl Brown, a council member, was ineligible for a post that council members would fill.

Brown, a Negro, had the endorsement of Harlem's united leadership team, a group put together over the past two years mainly by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr., D-N.Y., also a Negro. The team had named Dickens as its second choice.

Dudley, 50, was appointed to the Domestic Relations Court in 1955 by Wagner. From 1948 to 1953, he was President Truman's Ambassador to Liberia.

Kennedy Shifts News Talk, Now 4 P.M. Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today shifted the time of his news conference Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. EST.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said the change was made because Kennedy had scheduled a meeting of the National Security Council for 10 a.m.

Salinger said that Kennedy will alternate his news conferences between morning and afternoon. Accordingly, he added, the next news conference after Wednesday's will be held in the morning.

Fulbright Back Of Long Term on Foreign Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., gave his strong backing today to President Kennedy's program for putting the massive foreign aid program "on a long-term basis."

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, voiced hope Kennedy's realistic description of the state of "our military strength and our declining influence in the world" would be taken seriously by Congress and the country.

The President "did not spell out details of the foreign aid program he will submit to Congress or give any estimate of the funds he will seek."

But he warned the nation that the response to the problem of building and strengthening the non-Communist world must be as "towering and unprecedented" as the problems are "towering and unprecedented."

Fulbright, in a statement today, called the message a "general plan for action."

Kennedy, as a senator, supported Fulbright's efforts two years ago to put the Development Loan Fund on a five-year basis with financing provided by loans from the Treasury.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower turned thumbs down on the proposal, preferring to seek direct appropriations from Congress for shorter periods.

Two Mt. Marion Cars Collide; No One Hurt

No one was reported injured in a two-car collision Monday night at Mt. Marion Park, Saugerties Town Constable John Roderer said today. This mishap occurred at 5:10 p.m.

The two drivers, each in a 1959 station wagon, were Clifford Benjamin, 29, of 13 Plattkill Drive, Mt. Marion Park and Robert Keever, 29, of 43 Plattkill Drive in the park.

Constable Roderer said the Keever station wagon was turning right into the town road from Plattkill Drive when in collision with the Benjamin station wagon making a turn into Plattkill Drive. The Keever vehicle skidded on the icy pavement, Roderer said.

The left side of the Benjamin station wagon was excessively damaged with both windows broken and the Keever vehicle sustained damage to the left front fender and headlight, Roderer said.

Kingston Trooper David Wachtel was also at the scene.

Air Force Plans New Command for Its Global Link

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The Air Force is creating a new command to be responsible for its global communications.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, announced formation of the Air Force Communications Service Monday night and said it will go into operation July 1 with responsibilities formerly "divided among many Air Force commands and agencies."

At Washington, the Air Force said the new command will have headquarters at Scott Air Force Base, Ill.

White termed the current warning system against attack by jet planes "highly effective" and noted that "we also have the initial segment of a ballistic missile warning system in operation."

However, he warned, "we have a long way to go in completing a total system which will be both effective and reliable."

Fire in Broiler

Port Ewen firemen in charge of Assistant Chief Cleon Jump were dispatched to the home of Marvin Page, Broadway, at 11:55 a. m. Monday after fire was reported in a broiler. Chief Jump said Mrs. Page was baking a cake when she saw flames coming from the broiler and firemen were summoned. The chief said a cake mix package had been left in the broiler and it ignited. No damage resulted.

White Boy Joins Brother, Widens La. Boycott Gap

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—An 8-year-old white boy joined his brother at integrated McDonogh No. 19 school today and widened the crack in the 10-week-old boycott.

Michael Thompson was bedded down with asthma Monday and Friday when his brother Gregory, 9, began sole defiance of jeering neighborhood parents.

U.S. deputy marshals drove the Thompson children to the school where about 25 persons—mostly women—stood quietly looking on today from across the street.

A short time later, marshals accompanied the three Negro first grade girls to McDonogh.

Problems mounted at home for the boy's father, John N. Thompson, 33, a drug store employee with six children.

Margaret Lezina, Thompson's landlady, Monday ordered him to vacate his apartment next week when next month's rent is due. She said she is nervous and doesn't want any disturbance in the neighborhood.

But Thompson said he didn't think Mrs. Lezina could make him move.

An estimated 35 men and women jeered when federal marshals took Gregory to McDonogh where three Negro first-grade girls are pupils.

Wagon Mound, N. M., gets its name from a wagon-shaped rock which was a landmark on the old Santa Fe Trail.

Peiping Likely To Reject Food Offer of Chiang

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Communists are expected to reject Chiang Kai-shek's offer of food to relieve famine on the mainland.

The Free China Relief Association on Formosa prepared an appeal to the International Red Cross to ship the 100,000 metric tons of rice offered by the Chinese Nationalist president.

Chiang said if the Peiping regime snubs his proposal "then my government will take every possible risk to deliver relief supplies to the mainland on our own initiative, by land, sea or air."

Preparing for air drops, the Free China Relief Association began making up 10,000 ration kits weighing about one pound each. They were packed with dried beef, dried pork, fish powder and dehydrated vegetables.

Chiang called on the people of Formosa for food, clothing and money to help relieve the acute shortages that the Communists admit exist on the mainland.

In a speech to government officials Monday, Chiang also appealed to other countries and international relief agencies to persuade Peiping to open ports to receive aid. He pledged that he would not use food shipments as a guise for military action against the Communists.

Chinese Communist sources in Hong Kong said the Peiping regime has quietly relaxed restrictions on incoming food packages and removed duties on them. The charges sometimes ran as high as 50 per cent.

A recent press survey showed some $80,000 worth of food is being shipped every day by Hong Kong residents to hungry relatives in China—mostly food that originally was exported from the mainland to the neighboring British colony.

The Communists have admitted that China is suffering from grave food shortages as a result of the greatest natural disasters in a century—typhoons, floods, droughts and insect invasions.

REVOLUTIONARY BREAD PROCESS

Robert Freihofer (left), vice president of Charles Freihofer Baking Company, is indicating the new Freihofer "batter-whipped" Sunbeam Bread as the winner among the brands displayed on this "compare" board. Looking on in agreement is Tom Mancini, sales promotion executive from the Quality Bakers of America. Freihofer Sunbeam now is being baked by a revolutionary new process which results in a slice of unusually fine texture, completely free of air holes, a result not consistently possible with the conventional techniques of baking. The secret of the new equipment, according to Freihofer, is premium quality ingredients and the mixing of the dough in small batches. The new "batter-whipped" bread is being distributed house to house and in food stores. One of the new advantages is that customers actually receive two more edible slices than found in bread produced by the ordinary or conventional method—the end slices are found equivalent to tender center slices.
